Seven Killed, 47 Hurt As Bomber, Jet Collide

VAN NUYS, Calif., Jan. 31 (P)—A giant airliner crashed like a bomb into a schoolyard full of playing children today after colliding with a jet fighter at 20,000 feet over populous San Fernando Valley.

Hours after the spectacular tragedy—it occurred in perfectly clear weather and was witnessed by residents all over the surrounding Los Angeles basin—the casualty toll still was uncertain.

The four men aboard the transport were killed. One of the two in the jet was killed. At least two students, one unidentified, were killed and an estimated 47 were injured, three critically.

Both planes were on test flights. There were about 75 boys in gym suits frolicking on the athletic field of nearby Pacoima Junior High School when the monster liner, trailing smoke and scorching flames, smashed down with a force felt throughout much of the valley.

Bowled Over

The children were bowled over like tennpins. After the first shock came a rain of fragments—bits of aluminum, wreckage of every kind. A church and school across the street were badly damaged. Another school three blocks away was peppered. So were houses for miles around.

Dazed, shocked children, some

Wilson's Wife Takes Turn At Statement

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (P)—Secretary of Defense Wilson's wife said today "a good many" Cabinet members would like to quit and take it easy. A check around, however, developed no signs of an exodus.

Mrs. Ezra Taft Benson, wife of the secretary of agriculture, said the Bensons had no intention of leaving soon.

"As long as the President wants my husband to remain in Washington, and he can be of service to his country, I will be happy to stay here and help him in every way I can," Mrs. Benson added.

Agreement

Mrs. Fred A. Seaton, wife of the secretary of the interior, said, "I endorse Mrs. Benson's sentiment."

Another Cabinet wife cried "oh no-no-no!" when asked if she and her husband went along with Mrs. Wilson's Cabinet retirement idea. She said she was sure her husband would make a statement if he should plan on leaving.

And then she seemed to panic, exclaiming that it was essential that her comment on the whole matter, if she were to be quoted by name, be limited to "no comment."

Leader Looks To Future

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31 (P)—Gov. Leader today looked to the "not too distant future" for completion of a legislative proposal to change the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to a non-salaried agency.

The governor also told his weekly news conference that he will soon make known his preference for head of the suspension-riddled agency to replace G. Franklin McSorley.

whimpering and some calm, picked themselves up. Some didn't arise. Teachers rushed out with blankets to cover the injured.

An armada of ambulances took the children to hospitals all over the valley.

The crash occurred at 11:21 a.m.

Those on the field were mostly seventh graders. In the auditorium about 700 of the 8th and 9th grade children were having "class day"—a sort of rehearsal for graduation day tomorrow.

Principal David Schwartz said a "terrific crash and clatter" was

Walter Expresses Opposition To Large Refugee Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (P)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to admit more immigrants to the United States, with a special welcome to fugitives from Communism.

He called, in a message to the House and Senate, for an increase of 65,000 a year in the number permitted to come in.

He asked, too, for changes in immigration quotas that would open the doors to more Southern Europeans, many of whom have been kept out by the "national origins" restrictions of present law.

However, his tying the requests this time to the plight of Hungarian and other refugees from communism may cut into congressional opposition.

Chairman

Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Immigration subcommittee expressed opposition to any large increase in immigration.

Rep. Celler (D-NY) chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, parent group of the Immigration subcommittee called Eisenhower's proposals "a step in the right direction but nowhere far enough."

Sen. Ives (R-NY) described the President's suggestions as "intelligent and honorable remedies" law.

Rep. Hillings (R-Calif.) of the Immigration subcommittee introduced a bill to carry out Eisenhower's recommendations. Hillings said the greatest controversy would center on the number of additional immigrants to be admitted and "I am convinced the President is not wedded to exact numbers."

Rep. Walter, who is coauthor of the McCarran-Walter immigration law, said he figured the changes Eisenhower asked would increase immigration by 200,000 annually, and added:

"We already have about 22 million people in this country who are receiving funds of some kind or other from the government—pensions, unemployment insurance or the like—and I wonder very much whether we should add any more."

He said the proposed authority for the secretary of state and attorney general to admit refugees from communism would permit the admission, without further legislation, of 67,000 persons a year.

"It is now clear," Walter said, "that many of the Hungarians in this country are not true political refugees, but simply fled from the intolerable economic conditions in Hungary."

Good Morning!

A home town is where they wonder how you ever got as far as you did.

Turn Over Ordered

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (P)—The bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railway was ordered turned over to receivers today, heard in the auditorium, but there was no panic.

"The youngsters jumped up and got excited, but the teachers calmed them. They were directed to different assembly rooms, the social hall and the cafeteria.

Check

"After a check on who was present and who was missing, children were sent home as soon as possible.

"There will be no school tomorrow."

Reed To Retire From Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (P)—Justice Stanley Forman Reed today announced his retirement from the Supreme Court. He said "the strain of unremitting exertion" required by his duties no longer seems wise.

Reed was 72 years old Dec. 31. A Kentucky-born Democrat, he went on the high tribunal 19 years ago today, by appointment of President Roosevelt. A New Dealer when appointed, he came to be regarded as a member of the court's "conservative bloc."

In retirement he will draw his full salary of $35,000 a year.

In a longhand note to President Eisenhower, the Justice made known his desire to retire on Feb. 25. The President in a reply letter said he wished to "tender my congratulations on your long and splendid record in public service."

Eisenhower also commended Reed's "dedication and devotion that are so much a part of your reputation."

Statement

Chief Justice Warren in a statement said Reed had made "a great contribution to the court."

"We will miss both his wise counsel and his genial disposition," Warren stated.

Announcement of Reed's decision to quit caused immediate speculation on his possible successor. Names of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Leonard W. Hall, the retiring Republican national chairman, and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell were among those mentioned promptly.

Reed's retirement was the second in the court's present term. Justice Minton, Democrat, retired Oct. 15 and was succeeded by Justice Brennan, also a Democrat, on Oct. 16.

Turn Over Ordered

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (P)—The bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railway was ordered turned over to receivers today, were hurled with explosive force through the walls and roofs of houses across from the school.

Windows were broken. Roofs were caved in. Miraculously, only minor injuries were reported in the homes.

Final Words

Meanwhile, tape recorders at airport towers recorded these final chilling words from the stricken DC7 collision:

"Midair collision. . . Midair collision. Ten-how (an abbreviated identification number).

"We're going. . . uncontrollable. . . uncontrollable. . . Say goodbye to everybody. . . Say goodbye to everybody. . . Then silence."

The jet survivor, Radarman Curtis A. Adams, 28, of the F89 Scorpion, parachuted into nearby Glendale. He said at a hospital where he was treated for burns and bruises:

"We had just completed the second of three passes we were making to test our radar. I saw something loom up on the left side. . . There was a crash. . . We lost our cockpit canopy. Fire came in. There wasn't time to think of anything—everything was fire and we were spinning toward the ground. I guess I bailed out. I can't figure how we collided with that airliner. If that's what it was. . . I just can't figure it."

AFL-CIO To Oust Corrupt Officials

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 31 (P)—The AFL-CIO today ordered its 140 unions to remove from office any union official "commonly known" to be corrupt without waiting for them to be convicted in court.

This was among strict new rules adopted today by the AFL-CIO's executive council in its campaign to clean crooks out of organized labor.

The new rules designed to insure honesty among union leaders were contained in three codes drafted by an ethical practices committee, headed by Al Hayes of the machinists union, and approved by the council.

One of the codes deals with union responsibility to oust corrupt and immoral officials,

Eisenhower Designates Disaster Areas

By The Associated Press

PRESIDENT Eisenhower designated portions of Kentucky and West Virginia major disaster areas Thursday as low temperatures and rain added to the misery of thousands left homeless by floods that lashed four states.

There were eight dead in Kentucky; three in West Virginia and one in Virginia. Property damage in these states and in Tennessee ran to millions of dollars.

Eisenhower ordered the use of whatever federal funds are necessary for relief in those states. The Small Business Administration in Washington also designed 23 counties in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia as disaster areas.

West Over

Col. R. E. Smyser Jr., Army engineer from Cincinnati, said the worst of the flood is over in Kentucky "if we don't have any more heavy rain."

Smyser, who toured the disaster area Thursday, added that the "big job now is cleaning up and it will be terrific."

Gov. A. B. Chandler's office said it planned to send National Guardsmen into Prestonburg, Ky., to halt looting there. The request for help came from Mayor Harry Sandage, who said two patrolmen had been assigned temporarily to the business district.

Sandage said about 1,000 were forced to flee their homes and that damage would reach four million dollars. He said the town needed food, and medical supplies, principally typhoid vaccine.

The Army, National Guard and civilian teams already have set up typhoid vaccination centers in other hard-hit towns like Hazard, Perry County. Damage there was estimated at more than five million dollars.

Other devastated areas in Kentucky included Pikeville, Harboursville, Harlan and Neon.

Sandbagging was under way at Williamsburg in Whitley County, Ky., where the Cumberland River continued to rise. Mayor Virgil Bailey said the town was prepared for a record flood stage.

Elsewhere in the state, rain-swollen rivers and streams began retreating. Transportation and communication remained a problem.

At least 7,000 telephone and 102 long distance lines were out in the Kentucky floodlands.

Attorney For 'Mad Bomber' Refuses To Allow Plea To 47 Charges During Past 16 Years

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (P)—George Metesky's attorney refused today to permit him to enter a plea to 47 "Mad Bomber" charges and his arraignment was postponed until Feb. 21.

This will permit completion of tests in the psychiatric ward of Bellevue Hospital to determine whether Metesky is sane.

Defense counsel James D. C. Murray, prominent criminal attorney, moved that Metesky be returned to Bellevue "on the ground that he does not understand" the 47-count indictment against him "and cannot make his defense."

By Paul Carlson

CRESO—Fire of undetermined origin yesterday swept through Pocono Gardens Lodge, causing upwards to $200,000 damage and leaving many guests with only the clothes on their backs.

Dogged by bum luck for the last four years, the popular Pocono Mountains resort was the scene of a fire in 1953, and was extensively damaged when flood waters roared through the area two years later.

The lodge was almost filled to capacity when the blaze broke out about noon. Luckily, all of the guests and employees escaped unhurt. Fifty-six were given lodging last night at Pocono Mountains Inn, while others cut short their vacations and headed home.

Flames were shooting 20 to 30 feet into the sky when close to 60 men and four pieces of apparatus arrived from Mount Pocono under the direction of Chief Ernest Bisbing. Fire had completely enmeshed the roof of the two-story frame-block building. A short time later, it caved in.

Leader Reaches Into Ohio To Name Secretary Of Labor

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31 (P)—Gov. Leader today reached out of Pennsylvania to name William L. Batt Jr., of Toledo, Ohio, as secretary of labor and industry succeeding deceased John R. Torquato.

Batt, 41, who heads the Toledo Industrial Development Council, is a former Pennsylvanian who was unsuccessful candidate for Congress in 1946 from Montgomery County. He has a long record of federal service.

The appointment must be confirmed by the State Senate.

The governor told his weekly news conference he personally selected Batt for the $20,000-a-year post after alerting Sen. Barr, Democratic state chairman, and state labor leaders.

Torquato was dismissed last week in a dispute over administration of a secret million dollar unemployment compensation fund. Torquato refused to resign.

Batt is the second cabinet official named by Leader who had residence outside the state.

The issue of out-of-state appointments to state government posts was raised in the Senate this week by Sen. Miller (D-Beaver). Miller questioned the appointment of Dr. Merritt A. Williamson, dean of the Pennsylvania State University engineering school, to the Turnpike Commission.

Other conference developments: Cabinet Firings—Leader indicated he is finished with Cabinet firings for the present, adding, "I don't know of anything else I'm going to do with the cabinet."

He added that persistent rumors that Joseph J. Lawler would leave his post as highway secretary are "completely and entirely unfounded."

Resolution

Lodge and Pearson have proposed a two-part program. The first part, a short resolution, would have the General Assembly deplore Israel's failure to complete her withdrawal from Egypt and call for the sixth time for her to withdraw completely.

Once this resolution was approved, the plan was for the Assembly to take up immediately a second resolution covering use of the U.N. Emergency Force along the 1949 armistice line, in the Gaza Strip and in the Sharm el Sheikh area.

Krishna Menon was said to have suggested a more general formula to be used by the General Assembly.

Presses Huge Study

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31 (P)—The state Highways Department today pressed ahead in its huge study of proposed relocations and improvements of U.S. Route 11 north of Harrisburg for inclusion in the federal interstate network.

He is the "saviour of oppressed workers who are deprived of their rights by soulless corporations."

Murray said Metesky is in no way repentant about the home-made bombs planted around New York City during the last 16 years. Metesky said he placed them because of what he termed improper treatment and compensation for an injury suffered at a utility plant.

"I'd do it again. I'd do it again," Metesky was quoted.

No one was killed, but 15 persons were injured during the 16-year period.

Metesky was arrested at his Waterbury, Conn., home on Jan. 21. Two sisters who cared for him said they still do not believe he planted the bombs.

Fearful that the blaze would spread to adjoining buildings, Chief Bisbing immediately placed a call for help to the Barrett Volunteer Fire Co. Soon afterward, 23 more men and four additional pieces of apparatus arrived under the direction of Barrett Assistant Chief Charles Albert.

Aided by an ample supply of water from a dam behind the lodge, the firefighters sought to keep the blaze from spreading to nearby honeymoon cottages, and a wooded area. By 2:30 p.m., the blaze was under control.

However, Barrett firemen stayed at the scene until 3:45 p.m. and it wasn't until close to 9 p.m. that the last piece of equipment rolled into the Mount Pocono fire house.

Although the lodge was virtually destroyed, the firefighters had succeeded in keeping the fire from spreading to other buildings on the property, located on Route 196 about three miles south of Cresco, and about the same distance from Mount Pocono.

Chief Bisbing stated that a check with the owner-manager, Peter Rossi, failed to reveal the cause of the blaze. However, he added that the blaze started in a partition and spread upward to the roof of the lodge, containing 29 rooms, four apartments, and two utility rooms.

Bisbing revealed that Rossi placed the value of the building at more than $100,000. No estimate was made on the contents, and efforts to reach the owner were unsuccessful last night.

Some guests who were at the lodge when the blaze ignited were able to save some of their possessions. Others were sking and were left with only the clothes they were wearing at the time.

Several guests from nearby Pocono Mountains Inn came to the aid of the unfortunate vacationers and furnished transportation to P.M.L. There, Walt Fossa, owner-manager, and the guests shared their clothing with the stranded tourists.

Moreover, there was a bit of a change in P.M.L.'s social program last night. A scheduled dance was changed into a "Sloppy Joe" affair so the 36 Pocono Gardens guests staying there would not feel out of place.

As a sidelight, Chief Bisbing noted that radio equipment played an important role in battling yesterday's blaze. At present, Mount Pocono, Barrett, Newfoundland, East Stroudsburg, Tannersville and Marshalls Creek all have this equipment. As a result, help could have been summoned from any of these departments.

To illustrate the power of this apparatus, Bisbing reported that the Volunteer Fire Co. in Granville, Tex., and the San Francisco Police Department both radioed for information concerning the blaze.

In 1953, the office and recreation hall at Pocono Gardens Lodge was damaged by fire. Then came the flood. However, Rossi doggedly battled against the odds and rebuilt both times.

Elvis Presley Among Top Problems

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (P)—The President of the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters said today "Elvis Presley is one of the biggest problems we've got."

Harold Fellows added that the craze for the "Hound Dog" singer is not alone a problem of broadcasters, but of all American society.

"Much too many are going crazy about Presley," Fellows said.

However, he said, there is little the broadcasters can do "about a thing like the Presley craze." "If you want to deny it," he said, "you must deny it as wholly bad."

"Presley is entertaining. He must be, or he wouldn't attract millions."

Fellows commented on Presley in response to a question during a forum period at the convention of the National Religious Broadcasters. He told the broadcasters:

"The better job you do in your field of religion, the sooner Presley will go."

However, he added, "If it isn't Elvis Presley it will probably be something else."

DL&W Vet Retires After 57 Years

PORTLAND — Edgar T. Dalberg, 75, is going to take life easy now after 57 years continuous service with the Lackawanna Railroad.

Dalberg, who retired yesterday as station agent here, is one of three brothers who devoted their lives to working for the DL&W. His brother, Edward of Oxford, retired after 52 years service, while Eric of Stanhope served the line 50 years. Together, the three men put in a total 156 years service for the Lackawanna.

Dalberg began his career as a laborer at Oxford with the DL&W on Oct. 1, 1899. At the outset, he worked for $30 a month.

Relief Operator
Then he learned telegraphy and became relief operator and agent in 1903. He served agencies and towers between Oxford and Binghamton, and as far as Berwick on the Bloomsburg Division.

He became the agent at Portland on Oct. 1, 1905.

He has two sons, Andrew E. Dalberg, Madison, N.J., and Edward T. Dalberg, who teaches fourth grade at the Cliffwood Elementary School, Mattawan, N.J.

Dalberg and his wife, Gertrude, live in Portland.

Gun Club Makes Plans For Year

MARSHALLS CREEK — Farmers Gun Club board of directors held a meeting at the residence of George Smith Wednesday night.

The 1957 program was outlined and plans for same were acted upon. Game feeding projects had top priority for the annual activities. The club will work side by side with the local Boy Scout group, under direction of John Richards, for this feeding program.

In return the gun club will sponsor a safety meet in early Fall covering handling and care of firearms for the younger sportsmen within Middle-Smithfield Township.

Subjects
Other subjects discussed included the possibility of controlled fires in Spring, to improve some of the abandoned fields, and make better food and cover for game animals. A Fall trap shoot is planned, also a drawing. These latter subjects will be discussed further at the annual Spring meeting, possibly late February, along with bow and arrow hunting on club grounds.

Present at the meeting were Harrison Place, president; Alvin DeWitt, Jr., John Richards, Marvin Hassler, Theodore Regina, and George Smith. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith.

$10,000 Pay Hike Given To Bell

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31 (P)—The National Football League owners tonight voted Commissioner Bert Bell a $10,000 a year salary increase, boosting his pay to $40,000.

The owners, meeting in special executive session without the commissioner, also voted Bell a $10,000 bonus for 1956.

The league annually places $10,000 into a pension fund for the commissioner. That is in addition to salary and bonus.

Bell has eight years to go on a 10-year contract.

The electricity that toasts your bread, protects your food, lights your lights, washes and dries your clothes, cooks your meals and does dozens of other jobs is now a bigger bargain than before! The new lower rates will give customers savings of at least $1.4 million a year.

Also, under orders of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, the Company will make refunds totalling $9.2 million to the various classes of customers.

RATES REDUCED—In accordance with the Commission's order of July 16, 1956, the $1.4 million rate reduction will become effective today, February 1. The new rate schedules for home users as well as the details on the new and lower rates for other classes of customers are available at Company offices.

REFUNDS START FRIDAY—Also in accordance with the Commission's order of July 16, 1956, the Company will begin making refunds of $2.9 million beginning today, February 1. Residential customers of record January 29, 1957, will receive a refund of $2.38 each. This will appear as a credit on bi-monthly bills issued through February and March. Commercial and other customers on Schedules LP-1 and LP-2 will similarly receive refunds as credits on their bills. Other classes of customers with larger usage will receive their refunds by check.

In addition to the refunds of $2.9 million above, the Company under the Commission's order of November 20, will refund or set aside for refunds a further $6.3 million. Of this latter amount, $2.5 million will be refunded to the larger customers and be included with checks covering the refunds made to them under the July 16 order. The remaining $3.8 million will be refunded when determination has been made of the particular customers who are entitled to receive the monies. In the meantime this sum is being invested in U.S. Government securities until a court decision is made on who is entitled to the money. The Company will then convert the securities into cash and, together with the earnings thereon, make payment to the proper persons.

COST OF LIVING VS. AVERAGE PRICE OF ELECTRICITY — While the cost of most items in the family budget has continued upward, the price of electricity has steadily gone down and down. And now, with this rate reduction, electric service becomes even a better bargain.

A Studebaker-Packard exclusive so good other cars will have to copy it.

It's like having two engines in one—an economical engine for normal driving, and, when you want it, a super-powered engine for acceleration . . . for safer passing, hill-climbing and high altitude operation.

Today, only Studebaker-Packard brings you an engine with a built-in supercharger which has been tested and proved in service. Already, its high efficiency and remarkable performance have shown it to be the power plant of the future. Here, graphically, is proof:

The acceleration curves shown on this chart were obtained by plotting miles-per-hour against time, in seconds. The solid line shows the performance of Studebaker's supercharged Golden Hawk. The dotted line is the performance curve for the average American family sedan. Notice how much steeper the Studebaker curve is. It's the direct result of the supercharger pouring pressurized fuel-air mixture into the engine.

You can see how much more power the supercharged engine has in reserve for instant acceleration—at any speed—when you need it.

See for yourself—test-drive a supercharged Golden Hawk or one of the Packard Clipper sedans or station wagons at your Studebaker-Packard dealer's today.

Monroe County Historical Society Honors Frank Michaels

Membership Voted By Acclamation

MONROE COUNTY Historical Society last night voted an honorary membership to Frank Michaels, its long-term treasurer, and launched preliminary plans to furnish with Stroud treasures the new historical society museum rooms at the Stroud Community House.

Roger Dunning, president, presided at the dinner meeting held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel with 36 members and guests present.

Dr. LeRoy Koehler paid tribute to Michaels, who has resigned after many years as treasurer of the organization but who remains a director. His honorary membership was voted by acclamation.

Dunning reviewed the activities of the past year, when the society sponsored a Summer trip to the sites of the Frontier Forts of the area, and authorized the construction of glass cases to display the costumes of the past which now must be packed in boxes.

He also mentioned the need for capital funds to furnish the new rooms at the museum. County Commissioners pay the rent of the rooms, but the nominal dues of the society are not sufficient for purchases of historical treasures. A new plan is being drawn up to provide for a special type of membership to bring in the needed revenue, he said.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the presentation of the publication "The Poconos" by its author, Thomas Knepp, to a representative of the Junior Historical Society of East Stroudsburg High School. Knepp explained how the booklet came to be published as a handbook and guide to the Poconos for visitors. The historical section, he hopes to expand to textbook length for schools of the area.

Kent Anthony speaks of the historical address was given by W. Kent Anthony, who was introduced by Dr. Koehler. Anthony, who has traveled all over the country as a photographer, has made his home in the Poconos for the past eight years. He has "ghost-written" several magazine articles and is now working on a historical novel.

"The Most Brilliant Soldier in the Continental Army" was the title of his talk, and the subject of it was Benedict Arnold. The military genius of Arnold has been obscured by his role as a traitor, Anthony said. It was Arnold who built and commanded the first American Navy and fought its first sea battle, who time and again forestalled the British when they might have cut the colonies in two, and whose personal heroism, leadership and military genius made him the popular idol among the soldiers themselves and the common people, he said.

The case for Benedict Arnold. He made out a strong case for the daring, handsome and dashing Arnold, hamstrung by personal and sectional jealousies, political maneuvering during the war. He credited Arnold, far more than Ethan Allen, with the establishment of a base at Ticonderoga. He rated his march through the woods of Maine to the attack on Quebec with Hannibals march over the Alps. It was on this trek over wilderness trails through uncharted country that Arnold led his 600 out of his 1,100 men and joined Montgomery in the assault against the impregnable Quebec.

The personal jealousies which resulted in the charge of mis-use of funds when Arnold was commander at Montreal, the censure of Congress under political pressure, he contrasted with the respect and admiration in which Arnold was held by Washington and the leaders of the Revolution and the idolatry of the people.

The first American Navy he described as being the 16 ships constructed by Arnold and his men on Lake Champlain which successfully turned back the British fleet heading down to New York.

He cited other actions—at Danbury, at the first Battle of Saratoga, and especially at the second battle of Saratoga when Burgoyne surrendered—where Arnold's personal heroism and leadership against the cowardice and ineptitude of his commander, Gates, saved the day.

"The hero died during those months Arnold spent in the hospital recuperating from wounds at Saratoga, and the traitor was born," Anthony said, listing the steps in his downfall.

Military Warnings Keep Public Awake

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

When the experts disagree over technical matters about all the public can do is sit back and see who puts up the most plausible case.

And remembering at the same time that plausibility is not always connected with the right.

All during the Eisenhower administration there has been a sizable section of opinion which questioned the attitude of the money-savers toward the national defense program.

They haven't agreed with the optimistic expressions which crop out every now and then about the state of the world. They have wanted the United States to be prepared for the outside chance.

At first the administration represented the cuts in the defense budget as being possible because of the acquisition of new weapons, eliminating the need for strength through size.

Cost

Now the cost of new weapons and the need for developing more has run the budget back up.

In the meantime, there have been constant warnings—mostly from the various military branches which always are seeking more money—that Russia is getting ahead in one or another branch of preparedness.

The report of the Symington Committee on Air Power is another of these.

Aside from its unfavorable comparison of American and Russian airpower in its various branches, the report makes one charge which is very serious, if true. I say insufficient attention is being paid to intelligence reports about Russia's progress.

No layman is in a position to judge this report. He can only know that the nation should have had sufficient experience with failures in intelligence, and in evaluation of intelligence, as regarding Pearl Harbor, Korea and other matters, to keep it on the alert. He also suspects there isn't enough real intelligence information from Russia to give any sort of reliable picture of her military position.

It is unfair to judge the Symington report by the fact that the committee split along political lines, or because Sen. Symington himself developed a special interest while secretary of the Air Force.

School Plan Explained To Rotary Club

NEWFOUNDLAND—"The State Department of Public Instruction reduced our appropriation approximately $8,000 per year in 1955 because the size of our school administrative unit was considered too small." Supervising Principal Leland Cramer told members of the Rotary Club assembled at Green's Restaurant this week.

"A study was begun in October, 1955, on the feasibility of forming a six-district jointure including Lake, Salem, Lehigh, Dreher and Sterling Townships in Wayne County," he said. "The Wayne County Board of School Directors submitted this area to the State Council of Education and it was approved as of last year. However, no progress has been made in actually forming this unit, and the withholding of the extra appropriation will probably continue until this unit is formed."

Discussing the county changes proposed, Cramer said: "A plan to re-organize the County School offices into larger administrative units has been presented by the Department of Public Instruction, prompted by a directive from the General Assembly of 1953 to the State Council of Education. It has been approved."

"Under this plan, Wayne, Pike, and Monroe counties would form an administrative unit referred to as a region. Under the plan, there would be a regional superintendent instead of three county superintendents. A regional board would replace county boards, and the regional director's convention would replace the county director's convention."

"A bill must be introduced into this Legislature and passed in order to effect this reorganization. Previous efforts to regulate county units in 1951, 1953 and 1955, failed."

"Under this plan, the number of superintendents reporting independently to the State Department would be reduced from about 260 to approximately 50. This would probably be a more effective intermediate level between the local district and the State Department."

The speaker, introduced by Henry Arneberg, chairman of the program, also described the purpose and use of the new room being constructed in the school here for a pre-vocational class which will be operated by the County Board.

The Newfoundland Rotarians will be the guests of the Mount Pocono and Pocono Mountains Rotary Clubs at Pocono Manor on Feb. 5. It was announced during the business meeting. The local unit was the winner in a three-month attendance contest.

There will be no meeting on Monday, Feb. 4.

Wait Fossa, Jack Davis, Al Merwin, all of the Mount Pocono club, were welcomed as guests at the session at which Dr. Frank Urdel presided.

Tragedy Will Not Have Been In Vain If It Leads To Safeguarding Public

It was a saddened community which received the shocking news that five East Stroudsburg State Teachers College students had been killed in the frightful crash of a bus and the sedan in which the five young men were riding.

All of the students had taken part in extra-curricular campus activities and were highly regarded by their fellow classmates. They had passed stunned the whole community.

Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of the college, expressed the feeling of everyone in a message of sympathy to the families of the five young men. He said their deaths "have left a void in the social, athletic and scholastic life of the institution, but past association with them will be cherished by everyone on the campus." The same sentiments were echoed by their non-college friends.

It is natural that resentment should build up against the driver of the bus involved in the accident. Newspaper dispatches quoted witnesses as saying the bus driver was passing the last of three cars when his vehicle crashed head-on with the car coming over a slight rise in the highway.

The driver has been charged with involuntary manslaughter and his company has posted bail for his release pending a hearing.

Helm Off To Fine Start In Pledging Cooperation With Newsmen Of State

House Speaker W. Stuart Helm has addressed a letter to the newspapers of Pennsylvania in which he offers newsmen "the utmost cooperation" in reporting the activities of the House of Representatives.

There is to be no blanket thrown over the news, nor will favoritism be displayed toward newspapers, he says.

This is what he has promised the press—and the people—has promised the press he serves as speaker:

"It is my sincere hope, during my tenure as speaker of the House of Representatives, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that newspapers of Pennsylvania receive the utmost cooperation from this office.

"Free people are well informed people.

ion on the guilt or innocence of the driver in this particular case, we feel that the incident has a much deeper significance than even the tragic deaths of five people.

It involves the schedules maintained by bus companies and other means of transportation. The question that comes to our mind is this: was the fact that the bus was running behind schedule, due to the bad weather, a major factor in causing the accident?

Also, are present schedules set up with regard to the safety of passengers, bus drivers and others who use the highways? Or does competition dictate the scheduling of bus routes?

As a case in point, the bus which crashed had left Philadelphia at 8 a.m. and was due in Wilkes-Barre at 12:05 p.m. Do four hours and five minutes allow enough time for a bus to travel the 135 or 140 miles and still permit stop-overs to pick up and discharge passengers? And are bus drivers required to maintain these schedules at the risk of penalty if they fail to do so?

These questions seem important to us and we feel the answers will either justify steps to correct a bad situation, if one exists, or else prove us off base in our way of thinking. The questions are ones that all long-distance bus companies should answer.

Well informed people are happy people. And it is through the constant endeavors of the press that the people of Pennsylvania are kept well informed.

"I, therefore, promise the fullest cooperation of this office—that the people of Pennsylvania may be familiarized with legislative happenings here in Harrisburg, and have the opportunity to express themselves to their representatives. If I can be of help to you—the press of Pennsylvania—don't hesitate in contacting my office."

If the speaker holds steadily to such views, we can count on keeping the taxpayers of the Commonwealth well informed concerning legislation in the hands of the 1957 General Assembly.

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE Rising Generation And Mother's Home Cooking

Those pies "just like Mother used to make"—were they really good, or did they seem so because we had got used to the way she made them? And anyway, we were always hungry so it wouldn't have made any difference.

There were some exceptional cooks among those mothers, whose sons now remind the little woman that she does okay on strudel, but can't touch the home-made soup like Mother used to make. I'm inclined to think, though, that many a flabby pie crust and countless scorched items were idealized by children who learned to like whatever Mom fetched from her cookstove.

Cynics will tell you that young boys will be deprived the pleasure of taunting future wives with mamma's cooking. It'll be, "Couldn't we buy the same brand of frozen food that Mamma used to buy?" Or—"Hey dear, this cake mix isn't the one we had at home!"

I'm here to testify that there's individuality right in that store-bought package, and that where one super-fluffy cake emerged in the good olden times, hundreds are being turned out this instant by little ladies who'd never make it otherwise. I think fine cooking is like fine gardening. There are them as can, and them as never could the best day they ever saw.

My observation is that where one may be almost supernaturally gifted with a batch of dough, she can't cook meat any way but awful. That where one lady has nimble fingers with watercress dodads on sandwiches, good solid mashed potatoes leave her hysterical.

Where one female plants orchards, picks peaches and can't wait to get them plopped into mason jars—preserves, jelly, conserve, marmalade—another equally bright woman would sooner scrub floors than do battle with toast-toppers.

If certain quick-witted and kindly industrialists have made it easy for us to take up the slack in our cooking talents by providing mixes for dough-doubtful—I say hurray. It's a help. If they assist us to better cuisines by doing for us those things which don't come natchurally or any other way—loud huzzahs from this quarter.

We may be rearing a generation of kids who will say, "The old girl made a fine soufflé—but couldn't do apple pies for sour apples. Didn't put any sugar in 'em, you know!"

At least they got fed, like it or lump it.

Dulles Says He Opposes Marshall Tito Visiting U.S.

Washington, Jan. 31 — Secretary Dulles has had a change of mind on that stormy issue of the U. S.

The State Department head is now saying he is against it.

That is what he is personally opposing congressionally at leaders. Dulles is taking the time and trouble to discuss in detail with them his latest position on this increasingly explosive controversy, despite conflicting Belgrade reports on Tito's plans.

But directly on the heels of Dulles' assurances, these congressional leaders have been authoritatively apprized of two equally important contrary developments:

One of President Eisenhower's highest and most influential advisers declared flatly, during a conversation on Capitol Hill, that Tito will be brought to the U. S. sometime this year, "because such a visit would be in the best interests of our foreign policy everywhere."

A top-rung official of the Yugoslav embassy in Washington, asked if an invitation had been extended to Tito, replied, "It is our understanding that he has received an invitation in principle."

While privately informing Senate and House leaders that he is now opposed to Tito coming to the U. S., Secretary Dulles is making it clear the final decision will be made by the President.

As to what the decision may be, Dulles is significantly not ruling out the possibility of a visit by the Yugoslav Communist ruler.

Similarly the Secretary of State is carefully sidestepping questioning on the letter the President wrote Tito, which was delivered to him in December by our embassy in Belgrade. Congressional authorities are intensely interested in this letter, but so far have been unable to learn anything about its contents.

All informed sources have been firmly silent regarding it. In Dulles' talks with congressional leaders, there is a distinct inference of the existence of a special factor behind his change of view on a Tito trip.

This implied consideration is the fear that the intensifying congressional opposition to such a plan might have serious adverse effect on the Senate's deliberation of the new Middle East policy. While its eventual approval by the Senate is deemed certain, Administration leaders are worried this might be considerably delayed by injection of the stormy controversy over Tito.

A significant remark was made by Dulles on this to a senator, "The President has been greatly impressed by the strong feeling in Congress against a visit by Tito."

In explaining his reversal of attitude, Dulles disclosed that he previously favored bringing Tito to the U. S. in March or April. But while inclined toward that, Dulles adds he had not urged it prior to his stomach operation. According to his account, it was while he was away from the State Department that the "plan gained real momentum."

How and why that happened during his absence has not been clarified by Dulles.

Note: House Republican Leader Joseph Martin, Mass., has told opponents of a Tito visit, that he is heartily in accord with them but is withholding public comment for the present. Senate Republican Leader William Knowland, Calif., in effect, told them the same thing. "I'm against it," he said "and will announce that at the proper time."

Military reshuffle — Admiral Radford is not getting much congressional encouragement for his hopes for another reappointment as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He winds up four years in that top military post in August, and will definitely be replaced. The Air Force is in line for this office, as it has never held it. Russians, Red Chinese Expected To Try Ike's Patience Until He Can Take No More

During the fiercest excitement over the Suez seizure and the Hungarian uprising, opinion as to the meaning of various events can be extremes of despair over the consequences of British conduct, and of enthusiasm for the crumbling of the Russian Empire.

I quote from a colleague for a typical statement:

"The long-term interests which unite the United States, Britain and France remain far greater than the disagreement which divides us. The alliance is not shattered but it is shaken and enfeebled. The collective voice of the free world is muted at a time when the crumbling of Moscow's satellite empire gives us our greatest opportunity."

This is fine writing but we are now looking at this from a distance and the alliance between Great Britain, France and the United States is neither shaken nor enfeebled. It stands up despite anger and animosity, and the Russian Empire has not crumbled. It has, in fact, survived the Hungarian uprising and has formed a closer union with Red China than had ever before existed.

What seems to have happened is that the United Nations has come closer to being an instrument of the alliance policy and that Great Britain is growing closer to Europe and that Soviet Russia is resuming the Cold War as designed by Stalin.

The United Nations has lost moral stature during all these troubles. It has asserted a double standard of morality—one applying to Egypt; another to Hungary. It has disclosed itself as opportunistic, fearful of a power that would strike back; daring and brave against those countries that are willing to abide by its decisions. Undoubtedly, the British, French and other European countries recognize their peril in the operations of the Afro-Asiatic group, formed at the Bandung Conference and continuing to function on a program of hate against Western Europe.

It is now American policy to woo these Afro-Asians. Nehru came to the United States to focus the spotlight on himself as the greatest of Afro-Asiatic statesmen. He accomplished little because his is a meaningless program overlaid with East Asian mystical language which can only mystify such a type as Chester Bowles. In the East of Asia, it is already outmoded.

Chou En-lai has gone in for head puff, as he recently exhibited in Poland. Somehow that astonished those who dwell in Washington and are therefore permanently confused. They have forgotten the Third International—the ruling body of the Soviet Universal State of which Russia is one member and Red China another.

And in that great, Mao Tse-tung's word is body and therefore when Chou En-lai speaks in Mao's name, it is as though Stalin had returned to life. Mao possesses seniority in the world Communist movement.

Besides Mao possesses a powerful and well-equipped military force that defeated the United States in Korea and the French in Indo-China and that has given the British a tough time in Malaya. Does anybody in Europe want to take on both Soviet Russia and Red China?

And from the events, it is obvious that Chou told Goukula to make his peace with the Kremlin, for the Soviet Universal State must be one no matter what mistakes have been made or what dangers are encountered. Now there is speculation over of Washington whether Red China is not more powerful than Soviet Russia. Why speculate? The course of events will make it clear, as it already has, that one will support the other and that there will be no break between them in the interest of the West. The game of history is not being played according to American designs of pacifism.

Having done damage to Great Britain and France, the Russians and the Red Chinese will now wait to see what happens. They have lots of time. They do not expect anything much to happen immediately. They do not expect that the United States intends to go to war with them while President Eisenhower is in the White House.

Woodrow Wilson was a pacifist and he took his country into World War I. It is risky business to base a universal policy on the psychological responses of an American President or of an American public opinion which shift like the wind. Put that is what the Russians and Chinese are obviously doing. They will try Eisenhower's patience until he can take no more. It is their form of psychological warfare.

Idea for publicity. You have a fine staff and feel confident that each one could have been as untiring in the effort to assist in the campaign, if called upon.

During the Seal Sale the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society was given 406 1/2 inches of space and that is, indeed, a valuable contribution to the health program.

We appreciate the friendly attitude and the fine cooperation of the members of your editorial staff not only during Seal Sale, but throughout the year.

Our congratulations and best wishes to you, Mr. Heller, as General Manager of the Pocono Record, Inc.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Heller:
Another Seal Sale has passed. Another Seal Sale has drawn to a close and as we take inventory of the mail sale campaign we find evidence of a real interest in the Tuberculosis Eradication program in Monroe County. This is shown by the large number, approximately 400, of volunteers who assisted in the preparations for the campaign.

We need the volunteer workers but the year's program would be lost without the fine cooperation of the editorial staff of The Daily Record. Especially do we appreciate the daily columns, pictures, reminders, cartoons and advertisements which kept the Christmas Seal Sale before the readers of our local newspaper.

We worked closely with John Hill, James Riley and Roderick MacLeod. They were always patient and helpful with plans and

Proper Job Training Begins For Teen-Agers Of County

PROPER JOB TRAINING for teen-agers is the goal of both the Monroe County YMCA and Pocono Mountain Jaycees, it was announced yesterday by both organizations.

The job training program, to be carried out at the YMCA, began in November when a letter to the Editor appeared in The Daily Record.

J. Arthur Rath, classified advertising manager of The Daily Record, ran a series of promotion ads, enabling teen-agers throughout the area to advertise for jobs without charge. A total of 131 interested parties took part in the successful venture.

It was at this point that the Jaycees realized that a Teen-Age Employment Service would be in order for Monroe County. John R. Wilson, executive secretary of the YMCA, also recognized such a need and in conjunction with Stanley Grace, president of the Jaycees, began to plan the program.

Facilities at the YMCA were offered for the service and yesterday final plans were made for registering of teen-agers interested in the service. Registration will begin today and will run every Monday, Wednesday and Friday until a sizeable file has been completed. Registration will take place from 4 to 5 p. m. on the days mentioned.

Mrs. Inger Miller, director of program activities at the YMCA, emphasized that the first portion of the program will be strictly training. Training will be made available for those interested in being waitresses, waiters, babysitters, garage work, etc.

Life saving courses, part of the job training, will begin for girls and boys on Feb. 12 and for girls only on Feb. 14.

Dates and times for interviews will be revealed when the individual fills out the application. After complete training, the teen-age placement bureau will begin. It will be run by the youngsters and will be able to provide well trained, short-term employees. The service will be complete with a file and telephone service.

Employers seeking employees will be able to obtain the necessary youngsters from the employment service in the near future.

Rev. Foose Slated To Be Installed

REV. WILLIAM E. Foose, former pastor of the Tannersville Charge of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be installed as superintendent of the denomination's Phoebe Home, Allentown, at 3 p. m. Sunday.

At the same time, Dr. Charles Rockel, Coplay, will be installed as field secretary of Phoebe Home, and Devitt Home, Allentown. The two institutions are operated under a single corporation.

Mr. Foose began his duties as superintendent of the 50-year-old home for the aged on Jan. 1. As yet, no successor has been named to the Tannersville Charge.

Guests

Phoebe Home houses 155 guests at this time, while the recently-acquired Devitt Home will house 100 guests when all of the rooms are renovated. As executive secretary, Dr. Rockel will coordinate the work of the two homes.

Both institutions are supported by voluntary contributions from E-R churches of the Susquehanna, Central Pennsylvania, Lancaster, Reading, Lehigh, Philadelphia, East Pennsylvania and West New York synods.

Dr. Charles Rodenberger, president of Lehigh Synod, will deliver the installation sermon. Liturgist will be Rev. Ray Klingaman, Cherryville, while the service of installation will be conducted by Rev. John B. Franz, East Greenville.

Chairman of the Installation committee is Rev. Gordon Sperry, Allentown. Other participants will be Dr. Frank Teske, Easton; president of East Pennsylvania Synod, and Dr. Paul T. Slinghoff, Sinking Spring, president of the Reading Synod.

His Golden Anniversary at the Wheel!

In Texas, there is a gentleman who is currently driving out his fiftieth year at the wheel of a Cadillac car.

In New Jersey, there is another gentleman who has purchased every yearly model that Cadillac has produced over the past fifty-three years.

These are simply dramatic examples of one of the most remarkable truisms in all motordom: that once a man takes the wheel of a Cadillac, he usually remains at the wheel of a Cadillac.

To be sure, a motor car would have to offer many unique virtues in order to win so generous a place for itself in the affections of so many.

And, in the case of Cadillac, we think these virtues are self-evident.

There is, first of all, quality. No effort of design or craftsmanship is ever spared to make Cadillac the finest possible motor car.

There is beauty and luxury. The car's magnificent styling and interior coachwork have, over the years, brought Cadillac an inbred majesty and elegance that are entirely its own.

Then there is performance. In fact, Cadillac engineering has served as the industry's constant inspiration and taskmaster.

Finally, there is reputation. Never in automotive history has another motor car sustained such an abiding public conviction in its own goodness.

And, without question, all of these basic Cadillac ingredients have this year reaped their richest harvest.

So whether you've been at the wheel of a Cadillac for half a century . . . or have yet to spend your first hour in the "car of cars" . . . you should see and drive this newest of Cadillacs.

Need we say more?

Display Advertising Copy

DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as news copy deadlines, are necessary . . . in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production . . . and without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper . . . permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including CLASSIFIED DISPLAY, must meet the following deadlines:

Christian Society Goal Of YMCA

Editor's Note—Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, a director of the Monroe County YMCA, has prepared a series of articles for publication in The Daily Record during National YMCA Week, Jan. 27-Feb. 2. The series deals with the various activities conducted in the community under YMCA sponsorship. One of the articles appears below.

By Rev. Harold N. MacMurray

FROM ITS earliest beginning, the YMCA has declared its great purpose to be the development of Christian personality in the individual, and has set as its goal a Christian society. This was not just a slogan; it was the definite plan and purpose of the founders and has continued to be the guiding pattern of all the services rendered by the far-flung organization. Each YMCA is an autonomous body, organized under its own governing Board of Managers, but subscribing to the central ideals and purposes for which the YMCA came into being.

Early in the movement it became apparent that special groups required special techniques. Among the first of these was work among students at our schools, colleges and universities, where boys and girls are usually away from home for the first time, and the matter of associations and surroundings become important.

At hundreds of these institutions throughout our land, active YMCA work is carried on, geared to the special needs of the students. In addition to the ideals of the YMCA in general, students who belong to a Student "Y" are asked to subscribe to the following: "We are called to be Christian students, and to exemplify and declare on our campuses the faith and calling by which we live."

Out of the student movement, many interesting projects have developed. We have space to mention only one: In the summer of 1954, two work-study groups went to Europe. Here one group worked on various projects with native students, and studied student life and movements, with special conferences in Britain and Germany.

Other Group

The other group studied the political parties and the life of the Churches in Britain and Germany, with a special study of the role of Germany in the life of Europe as a whole. Bringing home the results of their studies, these young people have brought to their campuses a new understanding of the problems and the peoples of these other countries.

Town and Country YMCAs are one of the newer specialized forms of growth of the "Y" movement. Fifteen of these exist in Pennsylvania, augmented by several district "Y" organizations, affiliated community committees and Accredited clubs. It has been well stated by one of the state conventions that the only valid reason that the YMCA has for organizing work in small communities is the spiritual contribution it can make to the life of the community.

Where there is not sufficient population to support a "Y" building and its program, or where the area covered is so scattered as not to have one good central town, the Town and Country YMCA provides as many of the services as are needed and supported by the community. District "Y" organizations keep reviewing the situation in a given area, with a view of establishing more definite work when occasion permits.

Affiliated Community Committees handle specific projects in a community where no regularly established "Y" is operating, keeping the projects within the sphere of YMCA goals, and pointing, usually, to the ultimate establishment of a full schedule of "Y" work. Accredited Clubs are organized, usually in outlying High Schools, where the full Club program is put on, even though there may be no other "Y" activity in the community.

One of the very specialized forms of "Y" work is the Railroad YMCA, established on 117 of the railroads of the country, with a membership of over 150,000. Railroad men are often far from home, with a long lay-over; they may be tired or hungry; they are unattached; they need some place where they have a definite point of contact. Rest, relaxation, food and other necessities are provided for such men.

World Wars

During World War I and II the YMCA provided hundreds of "Y" huts, in camps both at home and abroad. The work was declared by the highest military officials to be of greatest value in sustaining the morale of the men away from home. This work continues in the larger camps and locations of the military service, and is a highly specialized form of service. Your son—and your daughter should she enlist in the Waves or Wacs—will find the "Y" a good spot.

A word should be added, also, about two of the very important, senior or adult activities that have grown out of the YMCA. Industrial Management Clubs, originally known as Foremen's Clubs, have provided one of the best agencies for the training of both management and workers in the delicate and complex problems of personnel relations within industrial plants. Last year, 33 industrial conferences were held, at which many of the knottiest of problems of industry were laid on the table for examination in the light of the Christian principles of the YMCA. The thousands of these clubs throughout the country prove that again the YMCA is meeting a real and tangible need.

Residents Contribute To Auction

RESIDENTS of the entire area have contributed articles of used furniture for the public auction to be held next Monday night, the Pocono Mountains Junior Chamber of Commerce reported last night.

The Jaycees are sponsoring the auction to raise funds for support of local civic projects. It will be held in the market adjoining the Monroe County National Bank Building starting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Wayne Posten will serve as auctioneer.

Articles not yet collected by the Jaycees will be picked up today and tomorrow, according to Committee Chairman Paul Mannix.

Lawyers Urged To Take Lead In Fight Against Politics

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31 (AP)—The nation's lawyers must take the lead "to see that our judges are completely divorced from politics," the Pennsylvania Bar Assn. was told last night.

"Judges should be chosen only on the basis of their qualifications, irrespective of their political affiliations," said David F. Maxwell, president of the American Bar Assn., at the 61st annual state meeting held here.

Reasoning

"Once on the bench," Maxwell added, "they should not be obliged to enter the political arena to seek reelection."

Maxwell said other obligations of attorneys are to assure that legal service is available to all who need it, regardless of ability to pay, and that every-one desirous of a jury trial receives one which is fair and speedy.

GO AHEAD! PASS IT! NOBODY'S WATCHING.

But note this: nearly 42,000 men, women and children will die in traffic accidents this year, if the present rate continues—wiped out by stop-sign passers, traffic-light beaters, speeders and other potential murderers.

What is it that makes us believe so strongly that accidents happen only to the next fellow—never to us?

No one expects to meet sudden death on the road—and surely no one expects to cause it.

But this year alone, according to the present mounting rate, nearly 42,000 people will die in traffic accidents—each of them certain it couldn't happen to him.

And thousands of drivers will wind up with the brutal knowledge that they killed someone on the street or highway.

You save about 10 seconds if you don't stop at a stop-sign. What can you do with those 10 seconds when you pause to think about it?

Traffic deaths can be halted if everyone does just this:

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning signs.

Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.

Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Provisions Of Walter Bill On Record

PROVISIONS of the immigration bill which Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) introduced in the House this week are spelled out in Tuesday's issue of the Congressional Record.

The bill—H.R. 4068—is similar to the legislation Rep. Walter sponsored in the last Congress, he told the House.

His remarks, as quoted by the Congressional Record, are as follows:

"First, it would permit the entry of 5,000 minor war orphans adopted abroad by United States citizens or coming to the United States for such adoption.

"In cases of war orphans adopted by United States citizens who are serving abroad in our Armed Forces or who remain abroad in the employment of the United States Government or an American organization, visas issued to orphans will be valid for 2 years, so that the adoptive parents will not be forced to return to the United States within the normal 4 months' period of validity of the visa.

"Expedited naturalization after admission to the United States is proposed for these children in order that they may accompany their adoptive parents abroad to foreign posts without undue hardship.

"Second, Having been advised by the Department of State that about 19,000 visas allocated under the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, as amended, have not been issued to three categories of immigrants for whom the visas were originally intended, my bill permits the issuance of this number of immigrant visas without time limitations.

Expiration
"On the expiration of the 1953 law, December 31, 1956, 16,338 allocated visas remained unissued to German expellees residing in West Germany and in Austria; 1,597 visas remained unissued to Dutch refugees and Dutch relatives of United States citizens residing in Holland; and 1,098 visas remained unissued to European refugees stranded in the Far East. My bill will permit the above specified number of visas to be issued to the immigrants as previously defined in the now expired law.

"The Department of State will be charged with the issuance of those visas by consular officers so that there will be no perpetuation of the special organization set up for the administration of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, as amended.

"Third, The Congress has been aware for some time of the fact that a considerable number of displaced persons and refugees born in Soviet Russia have misrepresented their place of birth in order to avoid forcible repatriation to Soviet Russia back in the years when this country practiced this unfortunate policy. Now many thousands of those people who have been in the United States for many years are faced with deportation proceedings on the ground that fraud was committed when they made applications for entry in the United States. Under the provisions of my bill, the Attorney General would be authorized to cancel deportation proceedings outstanding against this category of displaced persons and refugees if he finds that no fraud was committed for the purpose of evading quota restrictions of our immigration laws and that the misrepresentation was predicated solely upon the fact that the immigrant had grounds to fear repatriation which meant persecution, deportation to Siberia, or death.

Fourth
"Fourth, My bill will cancel the mortgage imposed upon several immigration quotas by legislation passed in 1938 under which displaced persons were brought to this country. Similarly, the mortgage imposed on the quota for Spain in connection with the importation of skilled shepherders will be canceled. The effect of this provision of my bill would permit the full use of about 12 immigration quotas.

"Fifth, My bill would admit under proper safeguards prescribed by the United States Public Health Service up to 1,200 immigrants afflicted with tuberculosis, provided such immigrants are spouses or children of United States citizens, or members of a family unit previously admitted to the United States for permanent residence. The purpose of this provision is to prevent the separation of families and curtail the number of private bills introduced in the Congress, mostly for the purpose of permitting our servicemen to bring their alien brides.

"Sixth, My bill will clarify certain provisions of the immigration laws applicable to the exclusion of aliens who have committed crimes classifiable as misdemeanors and will authorize the use of the criminal code of the District of Columbia in order to determine whether such crimes, if committed in the United States, would be classified as minor offenses. This provision will also relieve the Congress of acting on a great number of private bills."

THIS IS NO DRIVE-IN—Visiting a dress shop is fine, but first get out of your car. At least, that's what the driver of this auto should have done before going into New York shop. Injured included pedestrian, shopper and this store dummy.

ON TRAIL OF QUAIL

TWO BUSINESSMEN from New York recently left office cares behind and journeyed to Pinehurst, N. C., to hunt for quail, although the area is better-known for its golf and horses. The two men, brokerage executive Julian Bishop and corporation head H. Arnold Jackson, accompanied by their dogs and a guide, came back with their share of the birds. There's nothing unusual in this, but these photos may bring back memories of pleasant hunting days for many.

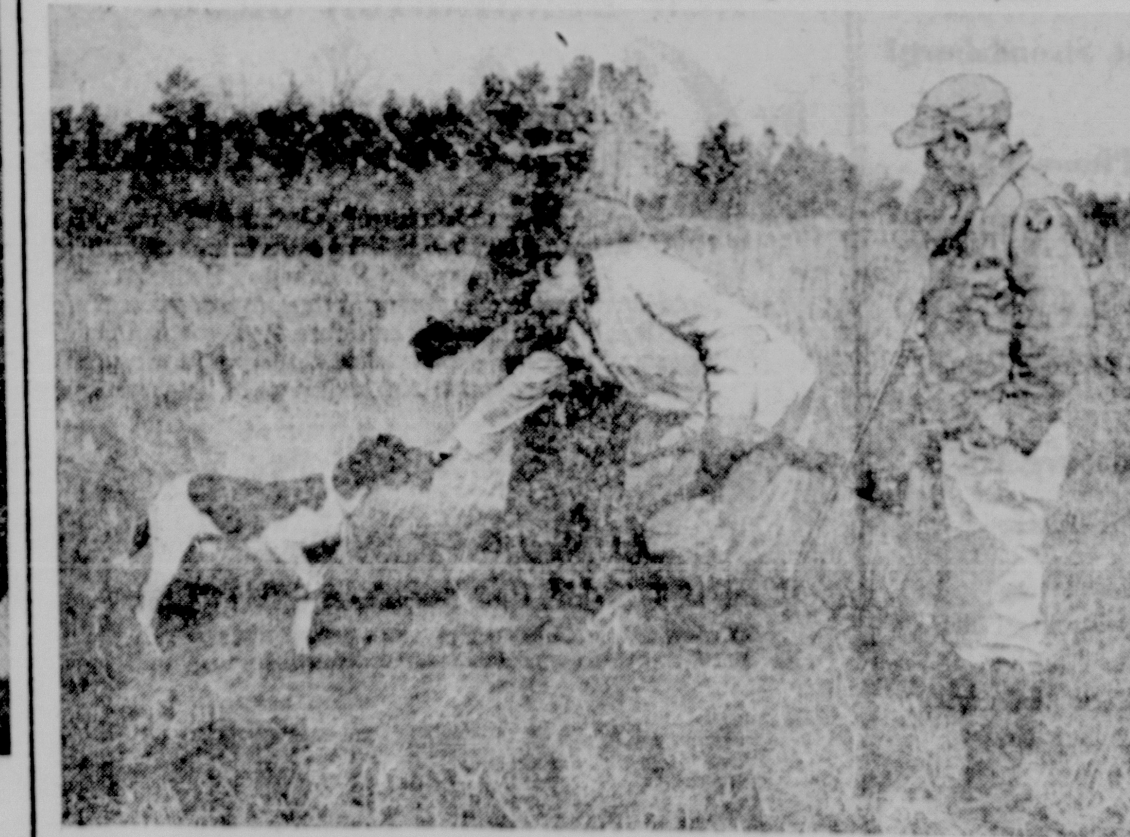

Bishop (center), Jackson (right) and guide, Robert Williams, start out on the hunt.

Jackson's pointers are pointing a covey of quail and men are waiting for them.

Ridgeway Brownie retrieves a fallen bird without harming a feather of the quail.

Now the dog returns bird to his master. Both men are winter residents of area. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

PRESENT FOR PRESIDENT—Earle Chesney (left), assistant to the deputy assistant to President Eisenhower accepts painting on his behalf from John Hilton, California artist. It depicts Mojave desert.

SIMIAN, THE PAINTER—This chimpanzee at the Baltimore zoo, Betsy by name, may be hailed some day as a great painter (of houses). She's dabbling in finger painting here. One of her earlier works (very early) hangs on wall behind her.

GETTING A NEEDED LIFT—Some five-and-one-half million skiers—amateur and pro alike—take to the snow trails every winter weekend in the United States. Scenes like this one, taken in the Catskills area of New York, are repeated at many big resorts throughout the nation. It's a slow way up, but a fast way down!

Ronson Lists Trade-In On Lighters

A TRADE-IN of five dollars on the retail price of all Ronson table lighters was announced yesterday by Ronson Corp., Newark, N. J. The move is considered as offering the trade substantial new sales potentials for table lighters, while simultaneously giving the American consumer one of the most startling bargains of 1957.

Seen as the biggest new volume-builder ever made available to dealers and distributors of cigarette lighters, the new Ronson policy permits owners of automatic Ronson pocket and table lighters to turn them in for an allowance of five dollars against the purchase of a brand new Ronson table lighter. In addition, the new Ronson merchandising move also allows owners of any other American-made table lighter to turn in for a five dollar trade-in allowance on a new Ronson table lighter.

The Ronson trade-in policy represents the first action of this kind in the history of the lighter industry. The company expects the move to stimulate sales of Ronson table lighters substantially in the forthcoming months of 1957, and boost the sales of Ronson's big table lighter line to new highs.

Almost 25,000 new Blue Cross and Blue Shield members were added during the special "Join Up" enrollment period held by the Northeastern Pennsylvania Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan last fall.

Results of the "smash hit" enrollment were broken down as follows by Executive Vice President George T. Bell in a report to the Plan's board of directors meeting recently in Wilkes-Barre general offices: Blue Cross additions, 10,939; Blue Shield, 13,565; for a total of 24,504.

Enrollment during the special period included 93 new groups, in addition to members enrolling under the "Non-Group" classifications. Groups were representative of practically every employment category.

Tabulation of membership figures to Dec. 31, 1956 shows that Northeastern Pennsylvania's non-profit hospital-and doctor-backed plan is now handling over three-quarters of a million accounts, or, precisely, 752,700 divided thus: Blue Cross members, 442,188; Blue Shield members, 310,512.

John T. Howell, Jr., presided at the meeting, and expressed for all board members the deep sense of loss felt by the death of Attorney M. J. Martin, Scranton, an active member of the board in the capacity of first vice president.

Warren J. D. Geary of Hazleton is retiring today in line with the company's retirement plan, as Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. general superintendent, following more than 43 years of service with the utility. His career extends back to predecessor companies of PP&L, and covers more than half the life of the electric industry itself.

Since 1947, Geary has directed, through his superintendents, the physical task of generating and dispatching electric power to customers throughout PP&L's 10,000-square-mile service area. This includes the operation of a number of power plants, nearly 30,000 miles of transmission, and distribution lines, hundreds of power distribution centers and the interconnections with neighboring utilities, as well as testing of all these facilities.

His successor is to be D. A. Campbell Jr., superintendent of operation.

Immediately after his retirement, Geary plans a Florida vacation with his wife, Gene. On their return they plan to spend most of the year at their home on Lake Wallenpaupack where the Gearys will be busy during vacation seasons managing several of their lake properties and... fishing.

Ronson Introduces Two New Pocket Lighters—Ronson introduces two brand new pocket lighter models for early spring selling. They are the ultra-modern "High-Lite"; and, the all-new "Whirlwind Imperial".

Gracefully tall, elegantly styled in modern silhouette, the "High-Lite" is years ahead in design, from its smartly styled lighter action to its convenient easy-to-fill "Swivel Base." It will be available in a variety of attractive finishes.

The all-new "Whirlwind Imperial" features an exclusive wind-proof retractable windshield design in a new, modern silhouette. With a large fuel capacity, the handsome and sturdy "Whirlwind Imperial" is an ideal all-purpose lighter.

Cpl. Cronover Assigned To Stroudsburg State Police

CPL. CLARENCE R. CRONOVER yesterday became second in command of the Stroudsburg State Police Substation. His promotion from trooper to corporal also became effective at that time.

Cpl. Cronover, who will serve under Sgt. Frank Burtner, comes to Stroudsburg from Bloomsburg. Joining the State Police in 1940, Cpl. Cronover was assigned to the Stroudsburg Barracks in 1943. However, he left here in 1944 to join the Navy. He was discharged two years later with the rank of chief quartermaster after serving in the Pacific.

Bloomsburg

Upon discharge, he was assigned to the Bloomsburg Substation. Then, in 1951, he was transferred to Hazleton, and was reassigned to Bloomsburg in 1955.

In other changes at the Stroudsburg Barracks, Trooper Steven W. Sabia yesterday was transferred to Hazleton, while Trooper James Gibson was reassigned to Fern Ridge.

Trooper Anthony Bensch was transferred from Fern Ridge to Stroudsburg.

Lafayette Professor Speaks To ESSTC Chapter Of AAUP

JANUARY meeting of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College chapter of the American Association of University Professors was held on Wednesday in the lounge of Shawnee Hall, with the president, Miss Catherine Reimold, presiding. A large number of the faculty members of the college were present.

Reports of the regular working committees of the organization were presented. The secretary, Dr. Harold Creveling, distributed to members of the association copies of the letter which he had sent to the national committee expressing the local group's positive opposition to the employment in American colleges and universities of any teacher with subversive political views.

The main feature of the program was an address by Dr. Karl D. Larsen, head of the department of physics at Lafayette College. After speaking for an hour on the general topic of training scientists for today's needs, he devoted an additional 45 minutes to answering questions posed by various members of the group.

These questions dealt not only with the supply of and demand for scientists and engineers in our country today, but with the training of science teachers in our teachers colleges, the support which is being given by various foundations to educational institutions, methods of dealing with so-called failures in college, and a comparison of American-trained and Russian-trained scientists.

The February meeting of the local association will be of a social nature, the details of which will be announced later.

Saud Confers With President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower and King Saud held a private conference today 3½ hours after the Mideast monarch got an all-out personal welcome from the President.

Eisenhower obviously was trying to take the sting out of the snubbing Saud got in New York City. Mayor Robert Wagner of New York refused to welcome the Saudi Arabian king, accusing him of favoring slavery and being anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic.

Gesture

Eisenhower made an unprecedented gesture by going himself to the airport to welcome the 55-year old King. Eisenhower hailed him as "our friend" as an honor guard boomed a 21-gun salute.

Eisenhower was warm, too, in greeting the King's partly paralyzed son, little Prince Mashour.

er—particularly suited for lighting up in windy conditions outdoors: hunting, fishing, boating, auto trips, the beach, etc.—as well as for dressy indoor use. "Whirlwind Imperial" has "Swivel Base" feature for convenient, easy fueling.

Sneed Gives Good Advice

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31 (AP)—Sam Sneed, veteran golf professional, recalls a time when he gave President Eisenhower a bit of colorful advice on his golf form.

"I wanted so bad to say, 'Mr. President, you're doing so-and-so,' but you know, I was afraid he'd say 'Sam, you keep your mouth shut.'"

"You know he had a man with a machinegun standing right over there," Sneed told a golf meeting last night with indications he meant nearby. "But by No. 17 I had my nerve up, and I said, 'Mr. President, in old Army lingo, you'd do a lot better if you kept your rump out and your knees bent.' He did and hit the best drive yet."

Oil Top Import

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31 (AP)—Oil-producing Mexico's biggest import last year was oil. The National Bank of Foreign Trade explained Mexico exports crude oil but points far from Mexican fields must import refined products.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1957

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Your stars are favorable and the day offers plenty of opportunity to exercise your enterprising talents. Pursue worthwhile ambitions. Go out with a will and try confidently.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—A generous day. Reach for the unusual, learn new methods, help to build understanding between people. Things react for the better wherever you earnestly try. Romance, domestic affairs highly favored.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Most auspicious for those of you who work with machinery, iron, tools, science, surveying. Radio, television, the stage, writers are also highly favored. The day is excellent for all of you who keep conscientiously busy.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Not an entirely attractive outlook, but the soundly energetic worker can find openings where others would fail. You may expect some irritating situations but they should just stimulate your will power.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—Don't be indifferent to your work and other rightful obligations. Balance ambition with steady effort and common sense.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)—Eliminate "cannot" from your vocabulary and substitute "I'll try." The influences are more helpful than you think.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra)—Don't allow anyone to change your mind or your plans; be ready to capitalize on opportunities. Maintain a steady tempo, unswayed by interruptions, to achieve best results.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Cooperation with the right associates, pays dividends. Keep a cool head and don't allow emotions to rule you. Enjoy the challenge, the obstacles.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—If you run into disturbing elements, take them in stride. Avoid today's pitfalls of carelessness, lack of ambition, risky ventures. In free time, enjoy some wholesome relaxation.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Give some thought to your appearance, your mental development. Both are important to success. Seek helpful advice if needed. Reason with yourself as you would with others.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Do not let doubt, anxiety or pessimism upset your equilibrium or program. These are unusual times and unusual things are being accomplished. Be in the vanguard and set your sights on the top goal.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't be timid about accepting responsibilities. Remember that nothing is truly gained without EFFORT. Emphasize your personality, avoid overstrain and watch your diet. Humor an asset.

YOU BORN TODAY are gentle till aroused, helpful, neighborly. You have tendency to underestimate your ability, sell your talents short; are willing to accept and incorporate worthy ideas of others in your plans. You are generally logical unless your heart overrules the head. Direct your affections thoughtfully; keep physically fit and do your keen mind justice.

Birthdate of Victor Herbert, composer; Sir Edw. Coke, lawyer.

Educator Supports TV

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A prominent educator has recommended that every public school in the country be equipped with closed circuit television.

Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, former Los Angeles superintendent of schools, said use of television could save 100,000 teaching positions and more than 500 million dollars in salaries annually, and improve the quality of instruction. He made his suggestion in a report for the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Historians are a hardy lot. Maybe it comes from reading so much about the hardships suffered by the early settlers. Maybe because over the years they've become inured to what Roger Dunning last night termed typical historical society "banquet weather."

At any rate, there they were, all 86 of them, not counting the Mr. Dykeman who came up from Brooklyn especially for the meeting, and only a little bit late.

But speaking of weather, I discovered last night that there are two separate climates in the ballroom—one climate where the ordinary people sit all cozy and comfortable on the floor of the banquet hall, and another climate for the speakers' table guests, lined up in state along the wall.

That speakers' table looked mighty handsome with its red, white, and blue flowers and flag placecards, and Society big-wigs seated in state. However, they were not to be envied. I found out when I moved over there to get a better view of the slides. Winds straight from Siberia were blowing right along their feet.

The Spartan boy with the fox gnawing at his vitals could have had nothing on the honor guests, sitting there smiling and gracious while frostbite set in. As Kent Anthony described that tremendous march of a section of the Continental Army through the woods of Maine in the dead of winter to reach Quebec, I'll bet they could sympathize with the soldiers every step of the way.

Or maybe, they were sitting on their feet. If only somebody had brought that bed-warmer the museum wants—they could have taken turns.

Miss Beverly Ann Thomas

D. B. Warner Engaged To Blakely Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Clement N. Thomas, 222 Fourth Street, Blakely, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly Ann, to Darrel Bruce Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Warner, 828 Monroe Street, Stroudsburg.

A graduate of Blakely High School, the prospective bride is employed in the traffic department of the Bell Telephone Company in Scranton.

Mr. Warner is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. He is a Korean war veteran, having served four years in the Air Force. He is employed in the plant department of the Bell Telephone Company in Stroudsburg.

The marriage will be solemnized March 2, at 4 p.m., in the Primitive Methodist Church, Blakely.

Cold Days, Hot Soups Go Together

By Alice Denhoff
Soup's on! Here are some recipes for those who like hearty ones.

To prepare an easy and excellent fish chowder, bone and cut 1 lb. codfish fillets (fresh or frozen) into bite-size pieces. Combine in saucepan with 2 cans frozen cream of potato soup and 3 soup cans milk. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until very well blended. Bring to boil.

Serve very hot, topped with a pat of butter and sprinkling of chopped chives.

Beef Gumbo

To prepare six cups of Creole Beef Gumbo, saute 1 c. chopped celery with leaves in 2 tsp. butter 3 min. Pour in (No. 2) can tomatoes (2 1/2 c.) and 5 c. water. Bring to full boil. Toss in 1 pkg. dehydrated onion soup mix, salt, sugar, 2 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. Tabasco sauce. Simmer 30 min.

Add 1/2 c. sliced okra (fresh or frozen) and 1/4 c. rice. Simmer 45 min. longer.

Old Country Dish

Next, an old country recipe for a delicious potato soup that utilizes canned soup smartly.

To prepare about 6 servings, peel and quarter 1 1/2 lbs. potatoes (about 3 large potatoes). Cook with a quartered medium-sized onion in 1 1/2 c. water until soft. Put entire mixture through sieve or ricer.

Combine with 1 can condensed cream of celery soup, 1/2 soup can water, 1/2 soup can milk, tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. caraway seeds. Heat to boiling.

Real Treat

For a real treat, serve soup with green pepper strips, carrot curls and crackers, some plain, some bacon-wrapped.

Cut bacon slices in halves and wrap around crackers.

Bake on rack in 350° F. oven, 20 min. or until bacon is crisp.

To really dress up condensed tomato soup, blend 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 can water, 1/2 tsp. basil and juice of 1/2 lemon. Heat to boiling point.

Set a fancy cocktail cutter in center of each individual soup dish. Hold cutter and pour soup cream into it. Continue to hold cutter and pour soup carefully around it, then lift out cutter. Takes about 1/2 pt. sour cream.

Pocono Music Boosters

Tannersville — The Music Boosters of Pocono Township School will meet Monday night at the school at 7:30. New projects will be discussed and all parents are urged to be present.

New Textures, New Colors In Midwinter Cottons

By Eleanor Ross

No woman has to give up her beloved cottons just because winter is here. On the contrary, midwinter cottons are more popular than ever and look as lovely as a breath of spring. Colors are soft, textures are lustrous and prints are delectable.

Shirtwaist Dress

The versatile shirtwaist dress of fine pima cotton, softened with ruffles of cotton or Val lace, is starred in every fine resort collection. The favorite prints are well represented; so, too, are dots and stripes. In addition, there are new large prints which are gracefully handled. These designs come in sheaths, separates and in beach things.

Those fortunate enough to enjoy a southern vacation can be sure that these beautiful cottons will be perfect when spring tiptoes in again.

New Textures

The rich textures are probably the most important-looking for wear right now, while the silky textures, the fine satens that have been developed, are excellent for dressy wear.

For the more casual type of clothes, there are cottons that look just like silk faille. Beautiful cotton blouses are here to profusion and make popular gift items. All these, of course, are wonderfully washable.

You may be interested in experimenting with your dryer, by the way. For so many cottons can come out of it without any need for ironing, even when the manufacturer or textile house doesn't specifically say they can!

Non-Skid Quilt

If you've ever spent the night trying to keep a slippery quilt from sliding off the bed, here's something you may appreciate. It's a non-skid cotton quilt designed for winter and insulated for real warmth. It is lightweight, too, and, unlike so many other winter quilts, is washable. It comes in a patterned fabric, with predominating colors of rose, blue or beige.

While there are grippers to keep the satin and taffeta quilts anchored, we still like the idea of a cotton quilt that doesn't have to be anchored and that looks ever so pretty and dainty even if it is not quite as luxurious as the others.

Incidentally, to add to the pretty effect, there are matching pillows for these new quilts, with the same fillings and coverings. We think such a set would be a nice for that extra room or for a youngster's room since it can be so easily laundered.

Community Chorus At Temple Sun.

Local talent will be featured in the next of the series of "package deal" winter entertainments at the Temple Israel. The Pocono Community Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Reuben Treible, will give a concert on Sunday night at 8 in the vestry rooms.

This is almost a "command performance" for the chorus who scored a big success in a similar concert last year, and who were invited to return.

Among their selections will be "Deep River," "Give Unto Me Your Tired," "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "Country Style."

A social hour with refreshments will follow the program and all members are urged to attend.

You Can Cook Your Way To Slenderness

By Vivian Brown

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If you want to keep your man alive and kicking, free from heart attacks atherosclerosis and a few other diseases, a low-fat diet may help, advise doctors. It is the best answer, too, they say, for reducers.

"What's a low-fat diet?" the average housewife may ask. And rightly so.

She reads on one hand that an egg fried in one fat may be high-fat, fried in another type fat it is low-fat, think it be confusing. But don't, likely it hasn't stumped the experts—they are uncertain about it too, but advise us to slow down on high-fat cookery in general; foods high in fat to begin with.

How to recognize those foods? Just in time along comes a book "Low-Fat Cookery" by Evelyn S. Siegel and Gloria K. Warren (McGraw-Hill). It answers fat questions for the home chef, suggests low-fat recipes, lists fat-gram content for most foods. The authors, both married to doctors, seem qualified to dispose their information.

Their goal is to outline 25- to 50-gram fat content menus. When you consider that a cup of shelled peanuts contains 63.6 grams of fat, that 10 green olives contains 65 grams of fat, you know the man of the house must revise his eating habits if he is a snack fancier.

It's the fat that looks minor that counts so much sometimes—like the fat in that good rich soup that Mom prepares. But it may easily be removed by a number of methods, the authors point out, including the one about chilling the soup, solidifying the grease, and then removing it.

If the bread winner insists on gravy with his hamburger, there's a good recipe in the book that gives him gravy without fat: Brown 3 tablespoons of flour in the frying pan, add a bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup of hot water with a pinch of salt slowly, to make a paste. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick.

If he's a stickler for high-fat dishes like Chicken Divan, normally made with Hollandaise sauce, whipped cream and other fattening morsels, wean him away by making the dish with bouillon cubes, evaporated skimmed milk and low-fat sapsago cheese, they suggest.

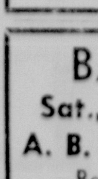

Your star boarder of course, may not go for any of this—arguing that all this is strictly for the birds, but he can't laugh at these figures: 1 pound of pork sausage contains more than 200 grams of fat and 1 cup of peanut butter more than 120. Bacon, ham, pork, liverwurst are all on the high fat list.

The authors' doctor-husbands point out in a forward to the book that "there is indirect evidence that certain types of fats are less apt to be related to atherosclerosis than others, so because of present uncertainties regarding this phase of fat metabolism, the book deals only with lowering total dietary fat intake."

This makes sense. One ounce of fat supplies more than twice as many calories as an equal amount of carbohydrate or protein.

Grandparents Have Party For 3-Year-Old

Brenda Lee Getz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Getz of Henryville, celebrated her eighth birthday at a dinner given on Tuesday night at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Newhart, 90 Bridge St.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Bryden Newhart, Edward and Charlie Getz, and Mrs. June Getz.

WCSG Guests At Steak Dinner At Keiser's

Cherry Valley — The Cherry Valley Women's Society of Christian Service were entertained at a steak dinner at their meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kaiser. During the business meeting, the society decided to sponsor three penny suppers this Spring. Tentative dates were set for the third Saturdays of March, April and May, with definite announcement to be made later.

Mrs. Corona Keiser gave a summary of the book "Paul's Letters to the Local Churches." More detailed reports will be given by the group of members who are reading the book at a later date.

Present for the dinner were Mrs. Frank Zeller, Mrs. Howard Hartman, Mrs. Dorothy Koehler, Mrs. Marie Borden, Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood, Mrs. William Slutter, Mrs. Samuel Getz, three guests: Mrs. Laura Brewer, William Slutter and Warren Koehler, and the hostess, Mrs. Keiser.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 14 at a place to be announced later.

In Las Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev. — Seen dining in the Painted Desert Room, Las Vegas, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. LaBar, of LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery in Stroudsburg. They saw Jimmy Durante's performance in the Desert Room.

Pretty garnish: thin round slices of carrot, with a whole clove in the center of each, for flower petals. Make stems of strips of green pepper or scallion (green onion) tops.

Marinate scallops in lemon juice for about an hour before broiling on skewers. Alternate the scallops with mushroom caps; baste with butter during the cooking.

Don't shake your toaster! Remove crumbs with a soft brush.

League of Women Voters Set New Meeting Date

The provisional League of Women Voters will try again to hold their organizational meeting next Tuesday night in the library at East Stroudsburg High School. The representative of the Pennsylvania State Board of the League, Mrs. Bernard Ostrolenk of Harrisburg, was unable to be present at the meeting because of bad weather conditions.

Since the rules stipulate that a state officer must be present at organizational meetings, the local league canceled the meeting and set next Tuesday as the tentative date.

The nominating committee will report and permanent officers will be elected.

Mrs. Gerald Rice President Of Young Women

Mount Bethel — The Young Women's Club of Mount Bethel and vicinity met at the home of Mrs. Evan Owens, on Tues., Jan. 29, with a covered dish supper before the business session. Plans were made to hold a white elephant sale at the Mount Bethel Fire Hall on Tuesday night, Feb. 12.

Proceeds from a bake sale held at Ackerman's Store were turned over to the March of Dimes. Officers elected were Mrs. Gerald Rice, president; Mrs. Delbert Fry, vice president; Mrs. Donald Sandt, assistant vice president; Mrs. Arthur Pipher, secretary; Mrs. Darwin Hoppel, assistant; Mrs. Donald Jones, treasurer; Mrs. William Pensch, assistant; Mrs. Delbert Fry and Mrs. Harvey Houser, flower committee.

Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Donald Yoho and the hostess Mrs. Evan Owens.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Donald Jones on Tuesday night, Feb. 26.

Delightful fish course: poach fillets and use some of the stock along with cream for a white sauce. Add seedless grapes to the sauce and heat but do not cook the grapes; serve this luxurious offering over the fish.

Good vegetable combination: green peppers, cut in wide strips, cooked in butter with sliced mushrooms. Nice with veal.

Rich Rewards For Preaching Gospel Aren't Usually Visible From Angle Of Finances

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Whatever rich rewards there are in preaching the Gospel, they usually aren't in cash.

That's the substance of a report out today on the status of clergyman's salaries.

Church members, the report said, seem to take the attitude that the pastor is "doing the Lord's work and the Lord will provide."

So the congregation itself often doesn't do much providing—at least not in the way of pay for the parson.

Average Salary

The average cash salary to the Protestant minister, as based on the latest tallies throughout representative denominations, is about $4,000 a year (not counting value of dwelling, which generally is provided).

Although the average itself is far below other professional categories, the amount in the many smaller churches is often down in the $2,000 or $3,000 bracket.

"Pastors of larger churches are fairly adequately paid," said Dr. Albert McClellan, Nashville, Tenn. assistant executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention. "Those of smaller churches are underpaid."

The average is based on figures from the research department of the National Council of Churches, whose monthly organ, the Outlook, comments:

"In an era of the greatest church membership in history, swelling collection plates and a church building boom in the millions of dollars, the average U. S. clergyman is being grossly underpaid."

Although he is expected to be a "highly trained man, skilled not only as a preacher and pastor, but as organizer, administrator, program planner, financier and public relations expert," the report said, his pay is about the same as that of "barbers, sailors and longshoremen."

With the value of living quarters, usually calculated at 15 percent of cash salary, included in the average income in most cases, then the average is about $4,600.

This still is way down the line, with most professional groups averaging about twice as much.

The annual pay rate climbed an average of almost $1,000 in five years, but as affected by the rising cost of living, the real gain is small.

Lower Pay
(Roman Catholic priests get much lower pay, since they receive both food and lodging, and do not have wives or children to support. Their usual cash pay ranges from about $1,500 down to $750 a year.)

Here are the latest figures on the average pay of Protestant ministers in various denominations (All of them except those for Congregational Christians and Southern Baptists included the estimated value of housing rental):

Congregational Christian—$4,163
American Baptist Convention—$4,748
United Presbyterian Church—$4,377
Protestant Episcopal Church—$4,903
Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.—$5,405
American Lutheran—$4,316
United Lutheran—$4,391
Southern Baptists—From an average $2,212 for churches of about 100 members to an average $9,432 for churches with 3,000 members up.

Meeting Set For Unit Of Civil Defense

MARSHALLS CREEK — Ray Hartman, director of Civil Defense for Smithfield Township, announces that a meeting of Civil Defense workers and firemen will be held Saturday at 8 o'clock in the Marshalls Creek firehouse.

Featured speakers will be Dr. F. W. Shafer and Joseph Kovarik, who will speak on the medical aspects of radioactive fallout caused by nuclear explosions and general problems relating to radioactivity.

The general public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Interior Unit Turns Down Bid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Interior Department has turned down a request that certain provisions of the Connally "hot oil" act be suspended because of the emergency program for oil shipments to Europe.

At the same time a high government official reported the government may consider invoking its special defense powers to compel the production of more fuel oil for the European program.

Poland Withdrawing

WARSAW, Jan. 31 (AP)—Poland is withdrawing from the 1954 Brussels World Fair. The government said it couldn't afford the million dollars for an exhibition hall and another half million to send tourists to visit it.

committee included Thomas DePue and Jeffery Parsons.

Treasury Balance

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury Jan. 28:

Balance, $2,917,552,723.87; Deposits, $36,922,281,270.20; Withdrawals, $43,611,282,074.76; Total debt (x) $276,539,584,270.13; Gold assets, $22,250,944,009.93.

EAST Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg Little Leagues should have banner seasons if the two men recently elected president in each circuit live up to past work in their respective fields.

Heading the Eastburg LL will be Jack Kist, as fine an organizer to ever set foot on Monroe County soil, while Stroudsburg's counterpart of the same type baseball will be guided by John Wilson, a man who made the Stroudsburg YMCA synonymous with high ideals in the area.

While the two new leaders of local Little League ball are more or less in different fields—Kist, a successful baseball and football coach, and Wilson, ruler of the "Y" in his executive capacity—both have had their greatest success leading youth of the community.

No better product has ever come from anywhere as those who were under the Cavalier mentor. The same holds true for Wilson who could easily take credit for molding the fine youth of the county.

Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg's 8-12 year age boys group are most fortunate to have men of Kist's and Wilson's caliber leading their way.

The Jonaire Kennels of Mount Pocono is making quite a name for themselves on the Florida dog show circuit. The canine group, headed by Claire and John Specht of Mount Pocono handled their dogs to winning status in many events across the southern state.

Jonaire Pocono Revere, male miniature Schnauzer, bred and owned by the Pocono pair, took three points at Palm Beach, Jan. 18; five points at the Greater Miami Dog Show, Jan. 20; and two points at Sarasota, Jan. 24.

Jonaire Rock 'N' Roll, male miniature Schnauzer of the Spechts, grabbed two points at Orlando, Jan. 15; three at St. Petersburg, Jan. 21; four at Tampa, Jan. 27; and three at Tallahassee, Jan. 29. He also was Best of Breed at St. Pete, Tampa and Tallahassee and third in the final trophy group in Tampa; and second in the final group at Tallahassee.

The amazing part of "Rocky's" rise was that the dog just reached 10 months of age in the Tallahassee victory.

BOWLING TIDBITS—Jim Harmon Jr. got himself a 637 series in the Commercial "B" League the other night as he paced Eagles to three-point win over Schaefer's. In the same loop, Carl Shirk had his best outing of the year when he belted the pins for a 628.

The same also holds true for Steve Balick who hammered a 602 in the "B" action.

Oscar (Okay) Stineley, rolling for Ye Sayers Inn, blasted a 615 to help his mates gain a victory over Eabe's Service Station.

Harmon (the senior) showed his offsping he could do it in the Monroe Classic this week, raking the woods for a triple of 652 on three 200-over games. Wally Strach guided the elder Harmon in the 600-class with a 601 and as a result Red Top Tavern was a victor over Bill Altiers.

Altiers had a 1027 in the third game of the match as Tommy Sommers rapped a 256 to give him a night of 612. Harmon (this time junior) was high for Altiers with 606.

The see-saw individual average battle in the Industrial League turned to Warren Paul this week as he moved ahead with a 187 norm. Bob Smith, last week's pacesetter, dropped to second with a 181.

Andy Alberts continued his rapid rise, picking up nine more points from 157 to 166. This makes a gain of 16 for Andy over a two-week period.

Kenny Barnes, once considered the tail wind on the Daily Record team, has started to make himself the high noise on the newspaper gang. Kenny, who will try tournament play in Allentown in the near future, shot a 537 to move his average to 168 or just 3 pins behind the team's kingpin, Stuckey.

Ryff Career
May Be Ended

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 31 (P)—The boxing career of Frankie Ryff may be nearing its end.

Ryff's manager, Charlie Black, indicated last night his fighter has "had it."

"Stopping the fight so soon—that was bad," Black complained, "but that's neither here nor there. This could be the cause of me making my boy quit."

In a nationally televised lightweight bout, feature event of the March of Dimes Carnival, Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., won a technical knockout over Ryff in 52 seconds of the sixth round.

Ryff, of New York, plainly disgusted at his showing, said he had no future for another fight.

"It is up to my manager whether I'll fight again," he said.

Stroudsburg Home Today;
Eastburg At Phillipsburg
3 Games Scheduled In Monroe County Loop

STROUDSBURG HIGH will inaugurate second half play in the Lehigh Valley League at home today and East Stroudsburg will bypass Lehigh-Northampton competition for an out-of-state tilt as the two local schoolboy fives hit the hardwoods again.

The Mountaineers of John Kupice, six-place finishers in the initial half, will host Slatington High in the West Main St. gym, while Cavaliers of Doug Shook face Phillipsburg (N. J.) High in an independent tussle on the Stateliner's floor.

A full slate of games is on tap in the Monroe County League. The schedule shows Barrett, co-occupant of first place, entertaining Polk, and Pocono Twp., the other half of the top porch, traveling to Coolbaugh, and Tobyhanna Twp. at Chestnutkill.

Another "big one" involving an area team finds Greencroft-Dreher putting its unblemished Wayne County League record on the line at Moscow.

Stroudsburg, which found victories wanting in the first half in the Lehigh Valley, hopes to get back to winning form against the Slaters.

Slatington, also had its troubles in the opening running, garnering only two pins. However, one of these was over the Mountaineers, who ended up with a 1-6 record.

Probable Lineup
The Mountaineers will probably start off today's activity with the school's individual one-game record holder—Doug Shook—leading the way. Shook, who is averaging 21 points per game in league competition, is expected to work with Ted Williams, a junior who has been coming along at a fast clip; Bob Adelmann, the only other double figure hitter in the first half; Don Hickey and either Dick Everitt, an escapee from the Junior varsity or Ron (Super) Phillips.

Also a possible starter is Barry Tretheway, a junior guard. Over-all Stroudsburg has won four games and dropped eight this season.

Seek Revenge
East Stroudsburg, showing fine scoring punch in its second half L. N. opening win Wednesday, will be out to avenge an earlier setback at the hands of Phillipsburg.

The Cavaliers, owners of a 4-7 mark for the campaign, will be facing a five which has won five and lost six. Phillipsburg plays all independent games, having no affiliation with any league in the Garden State.

East Stroudsburg will probably line up with Kim Beers, Jim Kendrick and Dale Metzger, the trio which picked up 61 tallies between them against Copley; and playmaker Harry Miller and Irv Smith.

Sure to see action are Tony Harlacher, Wes Werkheiser and Woody Mosteller.

Monroe Activity
While an upset will give either Barrett or Pocono Twp. a lone grip on the lead in the Monroe circuit, the race is expected to continue deadlocked until the two teams meet the second last game of the season—Feb. 8—at Tannersville.

If a surprise is in the making, Polk Township will have the better chance of pulling it against Barrett. Art Smith's Kresgeville quintet, holders of the league's third spot, may give Joe Murray's five trouble before the final whistle in blown. On the other hand, Pocono Township is expected to have little trouble making winless Coolbaugh its 11th victim in 12 starts.

Chestnutkill, hosts to Tobyhanna Twp., also has the opportunity of pulling back into a tie for third place, if Art Smith's boys bow to Barrett and Bill Frea's five dumps Tobyhanna.

Sage Seek 6th
Henry Arneberg's Greene-Dreher-Sterling High aggregation, 13-1 on the season, will be out after its sixth straight Wayne Conference win when they invade Moscow. The Stags hold a one game edge over trailing Waymart.

Pickings And Pickets Feature NFL Meetings

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31 (AP)—There were pickings and pickets at the National Football League here today, the clubs picking players and pickets marching outside protesting alleged discrimination against Negro players by the Washington Redskins.

The 12 NFL teams, represented by owners, general managers and coaches, opened their 1957 annual meeting with the final 26 rounds of the player draft. The first four rounds were held last November in an effort to gain an even start with Canadian teams in signing the top graduating college players.

Mighty Slim
It was quite obvious from the start of the draft that the pickings were going to be mighty slim. The 49 players, including Green Bay's bonus choice of Notre Dame quarterback Paul Hornung at the November draft, pretty well cleaned out the cream of the crop.

In today's first round—actually it was the fifth of the complete draft—there were few well-known players drawn.

Urges Skins
The Philadelphia Eagles, selecting first under the draft rule which made the order of selection from last place to first in the 1956 standings, took Jimmy Harris, quarterback of the national champion Oklahoma Sooners, Cleveland named Milt Campbell, U. S. Olympic decathlon champion, who hasn't played football since 1955. Campbell, a halfback, expects to return to Indiana University when his current Navy enlistment expires and to play pro football on graduation.

While the clubs busied themselves with player selections, outside the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, pickets walked carrying signs urging George Preston Marshall, owner of the Redskins, to hire Negro players.

The pickets were led by John Young, president of an organization known as the New York Roosters Sports Club, and Eugene Davidson, president of the Washington, D. C., branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Marshall, who only yesterday was sued by sportscaster Harry Wisinger, a minority stockholder in the Redskins, for some $300,000, said he was used to seeing pickets. "I come from Washington. Pickets are not unusual in the capital. I have seen them many times and I can recall the picket lines in front of the White House protesting the Rosenberg (atom spy case) sentences were longer than this one for me. I only hope what happened to the Rosenbergs doesn't happen to me."

NFL commissioner Bert Bell would say only that the league's policy to admit all players regardless of race, color or creed has existed in pro football since the league was formed in 1920.

Attendance Mark
Bell announced also that for the fifth year in a row and for the eighth year in the last 11, the league had set a new attendance record. The commissioner said 2,551,263 fans, 1.17 per cent more than saw the same number of games (72) in 1955, passed through the NFL gates last season.

Mantle Seen Signing For 55Cs Monday

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, 25, baseball's player-of-the-year in 1956, is expected to sign before Monday a $55,000 contract making him the third highest salaried player in New York Yankee history.

The slugger, first major leaguer to capture the triple batting crown since Ted Williams in 1947, probably will settle for $55,000, it was learned today. The figure, about $10,000 less than his original demand, is $25,000 more than Mantle earned last year when he led the American League in batting, home runs and runs batted in.

Mantle, here to accept various awards acknowledged he was to meet with Yankee General Manager George Weiss tomorrow to resume contract negotiations. Two previous meetings failed to bring about a compromise. It is understood the Yankees' last offer was $50,000.

Mantle looked trim and fit despite a hectic winter on the banquet circuit. He said he weighed about 200 pounds, five above his playing weight and that he intends to start shedding the excess poundage next week when he heads for Florida and some golf and fishing.

Neither Mantle nor the Yankee front office expects any difficulty when they get together for the third time.

Fullmer, Sugar Return Go Set For April 24 In Chicago

Bahama Faces Isaac Logart In Video Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—Yama Bahama, a carpenter from the Bahamas, and Isaac Logart, a young Cuban who is the fourth-ranking world welterweight contender, clash in the 10-round televised feature fight tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The two fighters will go in at approximately 135 pounds. The bout will be televised over NBC at 10 p. m. (EST).

Won 23 Straight
Bahama, 24, won 23 straight bouts until last Aug. 9 when he dropped a 10-round decision to Pat Lowery in Saginaw, Mich. He fought eight times in 1956, winning seven.

Logart, 23, is one of 14 children. He won seven of eight fights last year. Logart's last fight was a seven-round kayo of Duke Harris in Chicago, Nov. 7.

Billy Pierce Comes To Terms With Chi-Sox

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Billy Pierce (29-9), star lefthanded pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, came to contract terms today in a telephone conversation, Vice President Charles Comiskey announced.

Pierce, 29, a holdout who rejected previous offers, was given a "substantial increase," Comiskey said, without announcing any figures.

He is the highest paid pitcher in the ball club's history and reputedly one of the three highest paid in the American League.

Zernial Agrees

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 31 (AP)—Two outfielders and a catcher agreed to 1957 contract terms with the Kansas City Athletics today.

The club announced that outfielders Gus Zernial and Leroy Schmidt had signed contracts and

Don Ferrarese, 5-foot-9, 165-

that Tim Thompson, of Lewisport, Pa., had accepted terms by letter.

Don Mueller In Fold

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—Don Mueller, 22, regular outfielder for the New York Giants the past seven years, agreed to terms today to become the 26th member of the club to come into the fold.

The rightfielder, in a telephone conversation with Vice President Charles (Chub) Feeney, yielded to a slight cut from his 1956 salary, estimated at $22,000.

Triandos Under Pact

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Catcher Gus Triandos, Baltimore's leading long ball hitter for the past two years, today signed his '57 contract with the Orioles. His paycheck will run about $16,000.

Don Ferrarese, 5-foot-9, 165-pound southpaw, was believed to have agreed to about $7,500.

Bucs Pair Satisfied

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today reported the signing of second baseman Forrest (Spook) Jacobs and outfielder Al Griggs for the 1957 season. Thirty-six Pirates now have come to terms.

Cubs Ink 25th

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today signed their 25th player for 1957, outfielder Solly Drake.

Okay Tribe Terms

CLEVELAND, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today that infielders George Strickland and Kenny Kuhn, and outfielder Stu Locklin have signed 1957 contracts.

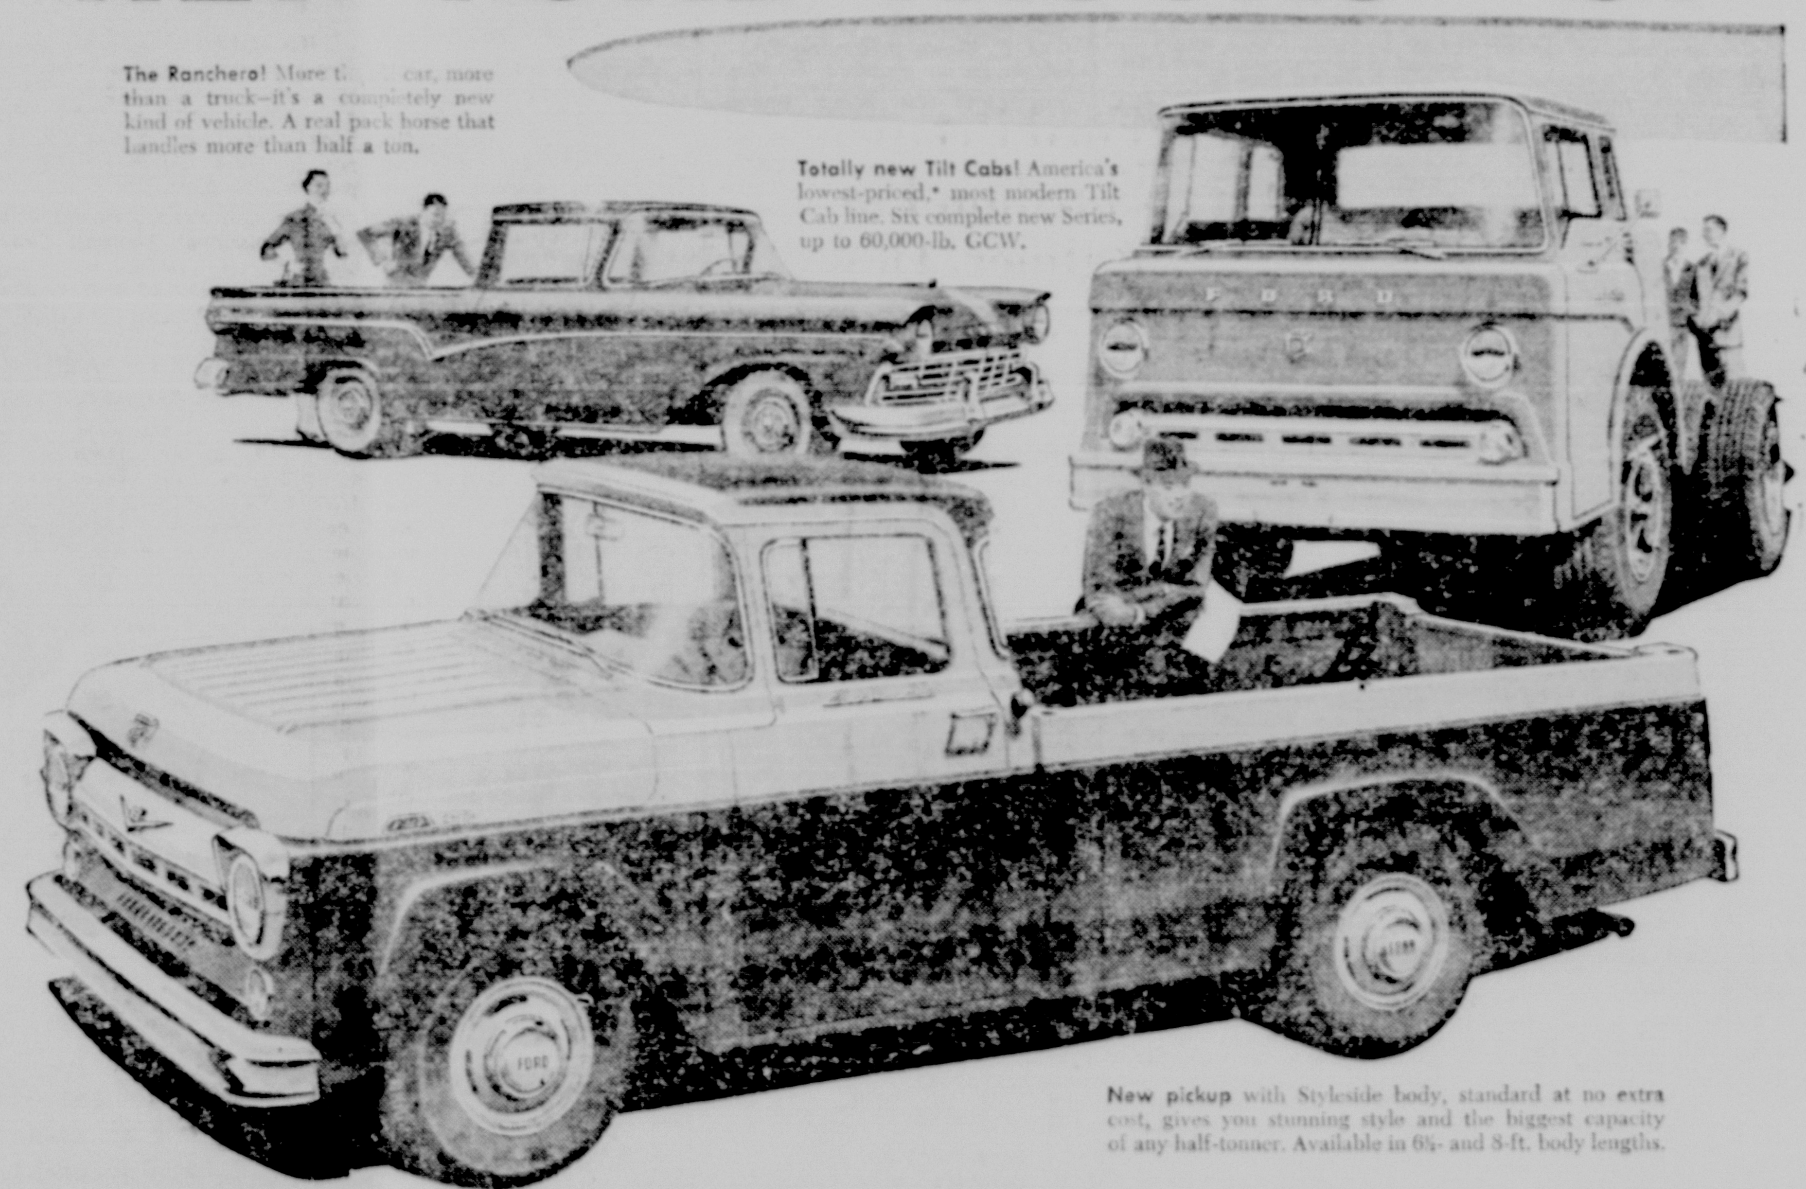

Earlier, Siegel said "there's a good chance we will buy the Rochester Royals." He added, however, that he assumed that Harrison wanted to talk about such a deal, but that nothing definite along that line has been discussed.

Cincy Group Air NBA Decision

CINCINNATI, Jan. 31 (AP)—A Cincinnati group will reach decision some time tomorrow whether it is interested further in obtaining a franchise in the National Basketball Assn.

Robert L. Siegel, Cincinnati realtor, said the local group will meet with Maurice Podoloff, league president, Les Harrison, general manager of the Rochester Royals, and others in the after-

LOOK! NEW FORD TRUCKS for '57

The Rancher! More than a truck—it's a completely new kind of vehicle. A real pack horse that handles more than half a ton.

Totally new Tilt Cab! America's lowest-priced,* most modern Tilt Cab line. Six complete new series, up to 60,000-lb. GCW.

New pickup with Styleside body, standard at no extra cost, gives you stunning style and the biggest capacity of any half-tonner. Available in 6½- and 8-ft. body lengths.

LOOK again! They're modern through and through

The boldly modern styling you see in the new Ford trucks for '57 just hints at how deep-down modern they really are!

The beautiful new Ford Rancher! rides, handles and looks like a modern car. Deep down it's a rugged truck—carries over half a ton, more than many standard pickups. Ford's all-new Tilt Cab Series brings a new kind of modern design to the big-truck field. It's America's lowest-priced* Tilt Cab line.

New Ford pickups back up their sleek modern styling with higher power, completely new cabs, a new kind of pickup ride. Styleside bodies are biggest of any pickup.

The three trucks shown here give you just an idea of the sweeping changes in the new Ford line for '57—ranging up to tandems with 65,000-lb. GCW. See your Ford Dealer for complete details on the truck to fit your job.

*Based on a comparison of factory-suggested list prices

NEW cabs—completely new—stronger, roomier, smarter! New wider full-wrap windshield. New inboard cab step, new Hi-Dri ventilation.

NEW hydraulic clutch standard in all models, pickups to tandems. Easier to operate—works like hydraulic brake. Clutch and brake pedals are modern suspended type!

NEW Styleside pickup bodies, standard at no extra cost. America's biggest pickup bodies! Side loading's far easier with full-width body.

NEW riding comfort! Big roomy cabs, new chassis suspension, and increased visibility combine to greatly improve riding and handling ease.

NEW chassis strength! New frames, up to 13½ stronger. New sturdier front and rear axles! New higher capacity springs!

NEW power advances! Higher horsepower, freer breathing, higher compression ratios, new Super-Filter air cleaner. Short Stroke engine design—V-8 or Six, in every model!

For '57 and the years ahead— FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

LESS TO OWN... LESS TO RUN... LAST LONGER TOO!

Formal Step Taken To Unite Churches

By Paul Carlson

BUCK HILL FALLS.—The first formal step has been taken to unite two similar agencies of the Congregational-Christian and Evangelical and Reformed churches.

The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the Congregational-Christian Church voted through its prudential committee "to proceed with a plan to integrate by stages its world-wide work with that of the Board of International Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church."

This action was taken at the final session of the denomination's mid-Winter meeting at The Inn here.

Unite

The two denominations will unite June 25 in Cleveland to form the United Church of Christ, which will be the seventh largest Protestant body in the United States.

In other action, the Congregational-Christian Missions Council re-elected as its president, John H. Ives, a Bridgeport, Conn., businessman.

Others elected were the Rev. Henry E. Robinson, minister of the First Congregational Church, Burlington, N. C., vice-president; Mrs. Allen Hackett, St. Louis, Mo., secretary, and Harold Belcher, Boston, Mass., treasurer.

The council serves as the promotional arm of the Board of Home Missions, the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Council for Social Action, and the Congregational-Christian Service Committee.

Ike Deplores Discourtesies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower vigorously deplored today "any discourtesies" to visiting foreign dignitaries who come here seeking to solve differences besetting the pathway to peace.

"You don't promote the cause of peace," Eisenhower told a news conference, "by talking only to people with whom you agree."

Lancaster Cattle

LANCASTER, Jan. 31 (AP)—Cattle 500, common and medium stock steers 12.00-15.00, calves 25, good and choice 22.50-30.00. Hogs 25, no market. Sheep none, no market.
